No Sign Of Life Found But Hopes For 50 Lincoln Airmen Spurred

LONDON (Tuesday) (AP) — A night of fruitless searching in the lonely Atlantic for 59 U. S. servicemen who vanished Wednesday aboard a C118 military transport plane followed the discovery Monday of aircraft wheels and a yellow raft.

(Fifty of those aboard were from Lincoln Air Force Base. The nine Navy crewmen of the big transport plane were returning the men from temporary duty in England.)

Parallel 'O' Parking Is Suggested

From 9th-10th 'For 2 Left Turn Lanes'

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

A change from angle to parallel parking along the north side of O from 9th to 10th has been informally recommended to the City Council by Capt. Willis Manchester of the Police Department traffic division.

The change was recommended to help the left turn movement off of 10th toward the west on O. With parallel parking, Manchester said, there could be two left turn lanes at O for traffic going north on 10th.

With the present angle parking, he said, there is not enough room along O to permit two left turn lanes into the street.

Manchester also recommended that the center island in the new O St. viaduct be narrowed down for a distance of 250 feet back from 9th. This he said, would permit three lanes of traffic to enter the intersection of 9th and O.

The three lanes, he said, would provide one left turn lane, one optional right turn or straight ahead lane and one straight ahead only lane.

Manchester also said steps would be taken to improve the flow of traffic south on 9th after Saturday afternoon football games.

Council members had received complaints on the traffic movement after last Saturday's game. Signal lights at intersections were left on after last Saturday's game, Manchester said, and that slowed traffic down. Next time, he said, the signals will be turned off and traffic handled by officers at the corner.

Manchester is to send his recommendations in written form to the Council for official action.

Soil Bank Rule Change Notes Sent Farmers

Letters were being sent out Monday afternoon to about 10,000 Nebraska farmers, approximately half of those who signed up land for the 1957 wheat acreage reserve, advising them of a change in the soil bank program of which many of them were not aware.

According to Soil Bank Chief Robert Zink, of the Nebraska Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, farmers who signed up wheat between the dates of Oct. 1 and Oct. 5 thinking they would be allowed to either cancel or revise these contracts until 15 days after they received their corn allotments will receive the letter.

The letter is to correct a group of announcements which the Department of Agriculture feels led many farmers signing up during the above period to think they could change their contracts.

Zink said that all these farmers will soon get letters telling them they are eligible to come in to the county ASC office and revise their contract downward, if they wish, from Oct. 15 to Oct. 30. After Oct. 30, he said, no further revision will be possible, but a farmer may still cancel.

Demos Fill Up State Ticket

Finishing touches are being put, above, to filing papers placing Frank B. Morrison, seated, on the November ballot as Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor. The death of Stanley D. Long of Grand Island made the change necessary. Long was the State Democratic primary choice. Above watching the filing procedure are, standing from left, Roland Luedtke, deputy secretary of state; Willard Townsend, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, and Frank Sorrell, Syracuse, Democratic candidate for governor. ## Continued Tito Aid Is Decided By Ike

Delivery Of Heavy Equipment, Including 200 Jets, Held Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower decided Monday to continue economic aid to Yugoslavia but to hold up delivery of heavy military equipment including about 200 jet warplanes.

The President announced his decision in keeping with foreign aid legislation which requires a determination by Tuesday whether continuing aid is in the interest of American foreign policy.

In a letter to leaders of the Senate and House, the President said that after "careful study and examination" he has decided:

"The balance of available evidence leads me to find that Yugoslavia remains independent of control by the Soviet Union and desires to continue to be independent."

"Routine" The President said "only small, routine and long-planned deliveries" of military equipment would be allowed to go forward under his decision.

He added: "I intend that this attitude which implies the nondelivery of jet planes and other items of heavy equipment, shall be maintained until the situation can be more accurately appraised during the days to come."

"I believe, however, that economic aid for the people of Yugoslavia, primarily in the form of foodstuffs, may now prudently and wisely be proceeded with."

Eisenhower made his decision only 10 days after Yugoslavia's President Tito returned from highly confidential talks with Soviet leaders at the Black Sea resort of Yalta.

Mystery Talks Tito had flown to the Crimean conference site after six days of equally mysterious talks with Soviet party Chief Nikita Khrushchev on the Yugoslav island of Brioni.

Responsible officials said that since the Tito-Russian talks, Yugoslavia Foreign Minister Popovic has given Secretary of State Dulles categorical assurances that no change is contemplated in Yugoslav foreign policy.

Dulles is reported to have been advised of this attitude during talks in New York with Popovic last week.

The Yugoslav Foreign Ministry gave similar pledges to American Ambassador James Riddleberger in Belgrade, he said.

Hebbron High School sophomore, Charles Houseman, lost his life late Monday afternoon in a one-car accident southeast of here on a county road.

Deputy Sheriff Claude Young said Young Houseman's car skidded 175 feet before overturning. The youthful driver was pinned under the car. He suffered severe head and chest injuries.

The wreckage was discovered about 5:45 p.m. by Albert Othling of Hubbell.

Young Houseman is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Houseman, who live near Hebbron, and a sister, Carolyn.

The death brought Nebraska's 1956 traffic fatality toll to 237, as compared to 245 at this time last year.

Weekend rains brought badly needed moisture to scattered parched areas in eastern Nebraska, including 2.41 inches at Nebraska City, Omaha, Ashland, Seward and Osceola received an inch or more. Rainfall table appears on Page 6.

Temperatures will hold steady in Nebraska until Tuesday night, when cooler Pacific air will start the mercury downward, the Weather Bureau predicted.

Temperatures for the next five days were to average three to five degrees above the normal 60-degree highs in the east and six to eight degrees above normal in the west.

Generally fair weather was expected Tuesday and no rainfall of consequence was predicted for the next five days.

Tuesday's high temperatures are to range from 72 to 82, forecasters said.

End Of Bomb Tests Possible, Stevenson Says

It Can't Be Brushed Under Rug, Nominee Avers

By ED CREAGH

CHICAGO (AP) — Adlai Stevenson assailed President Eisenhower's H-bomb views Monday night, saying a world in grave danger cannot afford a "defeatist" approach and "we cannot brush the hydrogen bomb under the rug."

The Democratic presidential nominee pledged that if he is elected President he will go anywhere and confer with anyone—obviously, he had the Russians in mind—if there is hope of "fruitful" talks to end H-bomb tests.

Whether he so intended or not, Stevenson's declaration had something of the flavor of Eisenhower's promise in the 1952 campaign to go to Korea.

Stevenson said he would "count it about the first order of business" in the White House to get together with Russia and Britain on banning further explosions of nuclear super-weapons.

Great Damage Feared Stevenson attached great importance to Monday night's speech, carried nationwide on ABC radio and television. And he made a special point of scoring Eisenhower's recent statement that he—the President—had said his "last word" on the H-bomb tests.

"We cannot brush the hydrogen bomb under the rug," Stevenson said. "But we can discuss it seriously and soberly, with mutual respect for the desire we all have for progress toward peace. This is one subject on which there cannot be, there must not be, any last word."

The Democratic nominee said both Britain and Russia have shown willingness to explore his plan to end the H-bomb tests.

"What are we waiting for?" he demanded.

Stevenson's property has been assailed by Eisenhower as "a theatrical gesture" which would be harmful to national security. Secretary of Defense Wilson has said it would not be "feasible" and Harold E. Stassen, the President's disarmament adviser, has described it as "dangerous."

Backed by Scientists On the other hand, various nuclear scientists, including 10 from the California Institute of Technology, have voiced agreement with the Democratic candidate that further H-bomb tests should somehow be halted. And Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler has called on Eisenhower to reconsider his decision to say no more on the subject.

Stevenson said it may well not be possible to reach any international agreement in the immediate future to stop further tests.

"In the meantime—and frankly because bitter experience has proved that we cannot rely even on the firm agreement of one bloc of world powers—we will proceed both with the production of both hydrogen weapons and with further research in the field," Stevenson said.

Little Danger Seen He added: "There is little danger to national security involved because if another power conducts further tests we would know it, and as I have said, we would have no choice but to resume such tests ourselves."

Stevenson went to the television studio to deliver his speech some hours after he collected $5 from a neighbor in Libertyville, Ill., to kick off a "Dollars for Democrats" campaign on which he is counting for the money to pay for further television appearances.

The Libertyville episode was partly humorous, partly embarrassing to Stevenson.

He had to go through the performance many times and obviously did not enjoy the role in which the photographers were casting him.

It was a different situation Monday night. Stevenson was deadly serious about the H-bomb problem which, along with his suggestion that the draft be ended in the foreseeable future, he has selected as key issues in the campaign.

Another Hitler Possible "Think what would happen," Stevenson said, "if a maniac, another Hitler, had the hydrogen bomb. And imagine what the consequence would be of a dozen nations conducting hydrogen bomb tests and wantonly thrusting radioactive matter into the atmosphere."

Stevenson quoted a statement by Mr. A. R. Green of Kuppenheimer's, speaker on the city wide Sales-O-Rama program, will show Kuppenheimer's Spring Fashions for men all day Tuesday on Magee's 2nd floor.—Adv.

Israel 'Not Eager For Battle, But Will Fight'

Premier Ben-Gurion Calls Anew For Arms From United States

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier David Ben-Gurion said Monday Israel is not eager for battle with the Arabs, but "if we are attacked we shall fight with all our strength to the end—and that means until victory." He called anew for arms from the United States.

Ben-Gurion's broad warning came amid rising tension over the plans of Iraq to move troops into neighboring Jordan, which faces a general election Sunday with its people in ferment over powerful military raids by the Israelis.

Even as the 70-year-old Israeli leader delivered a major policy speech before the Knesset (Parliament), Jordan called on the U.N. Security Council in New York for quick action to end what it called "actual aggressions" by Israel and a most serious border situation. The Israelis contend the raids are retaliations for Jordanian killings on Israeli soil.

At the same time Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission, reported that Israeli refusal to cooperate had stalled his investigation of border incidents. Burns told U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold "I feel it is my duty to draw your attention to the obvious dangers involved."

'Duty' Ben-Gurion had a word on the true organization also. He told the Knesset self-defense is a natural right "and perhaps it is more than a right, it is the duty of the state." Some of the U.N. representatives, he said, "deny Israel this right of self-defense."

Of reports that 3,000 Iraqi troops are poised on Jordan's eastern frontier ready to move in to support young King Hussein's shaky Arab government, Ben-Gurion said Israel reserved freedom of action.

The Israeli Foreign Ministry shortly before had warned in a statement obviously aimed at Britain, which has treaty ties with both Jordan and Iraq, against support for any such move.

In a long review of Arab-Israeli border clashes, Ben-Gurion put the blame largely on Egypt and Jordan, two of Israel's foes in the Palestine war of 1948. Egypt is the biggest power in the Arab bloc. Jordan is a Hashemite kingdom. Soldiers of Iraq, a fellow Hashemite kingdom, fought Israel from Jordan soil in the 1948 war.

Lutherans Move To Replace Bars To Remarriage

Conscience Would Guide Divorcee

... Plain-Spoken Report

By GEORGE CORNELL
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A major Protestant church Monday weighed a plan to remove its long-time technical bars to remarriage of divorced persons — and substitute restrictions based on conscience.

The proposal before the biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church was part of a plain-spoken, comprehensive report on Christian teachings concerning love, sex, marriage and family life.

It is described as the most probing analysis of its kind ever drawn up by the 24-million-member church, largest Lutheran denomination in the country.

8,000 Word Document

Aimed at reinforcing weak spots in contemporary moral attitudes and practices, the 8,000-word document gives a candid assessment of man-woman relationships from youth up in light of the Gospels.

A committee, headed by the Rev. William C. Zimmerman, Dayton, Ohio, assisted by a group of five married women, worked on the report for three years.

Among other things, it provides for dropping the church's quarter-century-old rule allowing only the "innocent party" in a divorce granted for adultery or desertion to remarry in the church.

Instead, the new code views both parties as being at fault. It declares that any marriage breakup "involves sin and suffering" and violates "God's order," but it adds: "God in his love does accept the sinner and deals with him according to his need."

The revision wipes out an old requirement of a waiting period of at least a year before remarriage. The statement endorses birth control.

Misle's Low Bid Rejected; O'Shea Wins

The City Council has turned down the low bid of Misle Chevrolet Co. and paid an extra $440.26 to purchase 11 cars from O'Shea-Rogers Co.

Misle had bid a total of $15,861.75 for the 11 vehicles while O'Shea bid $16,302.01.

Five of the cars to be purchased are cruisers for the police department. Police Chief Joseph T. Carroll recommended the O'Shea bid to maintain a uniformity of models within the cruiser fleet.

He also cited the past favorable experience of the Department with Ford cars as furnished by O'Shea-Rogers and pointed to more efficient maintenance costs by retaining only one model of car.

Councilman Pat Ash made the motion for acceptance of the O'Shea bid, with the explanation that Misle did not meet specifications because his bid failed to list the individual allowance made on each of eight cars being traded in. City Purchasing Agent Wayne Harvey had recommended the Misle bid. Harvey's recommendation stated that all bids received met the city's specifications.

U.N. Action Is Urged By Jordan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Jordan asked Monday for a Security Council session soon to act on its serious border troubles with Israel. Jordan's complaint charged 50 Jordanians have been killed in the last two big raids from Israel. Israel contends the raids are in retaliation for warlike acts by Jordan.

As the situation on the Israeli-Jordanian border grew more tense, the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission supervisor, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, reported Israel was refusing to cooperate with the Jordan - Israeli Mixed Armistice Commission.

He said Israel barred U. N. observers from investigations of incidents along the Israeli side of the border and declared this paralyzed operations of the truce organization's observation and investigation machinery.

Council Schedules Monday Van Dorn Sidewalk Hearing

The City Council has set next Monday as the date for hearing on a proposal to order sidewalks constructed along the south side of Van Dorn from 20th to 24th.

Capt. Willis Manchester of the Police Department traffic division told the Council that a survey of the area showed from 175 to 300 cars an hour over Van Dorn at 20th and 24th between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. From 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. he said, 21 children cross Van Dorn at 22nd and 32 cross at 24th.

The vehicle count, Manchester said, shows that the area is definitely not in need of automatic school stop signs. Such signs are not recommended, he said, unless the traffic count is 500 to 700 cars. Manchester recommended continued use of the carry-out type of school stop sign at 20th and 22nd.

Police reported the burglary of a table radio valued at $23 from a new home under construction at 6430 Holdrege. The radio was owned by A. R. Kennedy of 6517 Holdrege.

Grubbs said in a trip across the state he found "a definite trend in public opinion everywhere except Lincoln, to the effect that there should be a change in the office of attorney general."

"If the Republican Party insists on its 'kick back system,' where state employees kick back a portion of their salary to the Republicans, the state employees will become irritated enough to also vote for a change and the city of Lincoln then will vote Democratic along with the rest of the state," he said.

City OKs Lease Of Land For Parking Purposes

The City Council has approved a lease to the McKelvie Publishing Co. of city-owned property at the northwest corner of 15th and P for parking lot purposes.

The lease covers a 15-foot strip of land between the curb and lot line along 15th and a five foot strip in the same area along P. The company will pay the city $150 a year for use of the area.

Attorney Richard Berkheimer told the Council the company's protest to payment was based on the fact that other such areas were being used about town without cost. The company had originally offered to pay $30 a year for the area but later agreed to the $150.

'Fifth Amendment Workers' Firing Upheld By High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — An independent labor union lost in the Supreme Court its effort to prevent a private employer from firing employees who plead the Fifth Amendment at public hearings about Communist affiliations.

The court turned down without comment an appeal by the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (UE), which is facing Justice Department charges of being Red-infiltrated.

The union claimed the policy of General Electric Co. of discharging workers who refused to testify before congressional committees on the ground of possible self-incrimination violated the contract between the union and the company.

It was among 35 cases disposed of by the court in a session which marked the final day of Justice Sherman Minton on the bench. Minton, retiring because of failing health, will be succeeded by Walter J. Brennan Jr. of New Jersey.

In other actions the court: 1. Declined to act at this time on an appeal by a group of Sumter County, S.C., parents who said their children were refused admission to white elementary and grade schools.

Lutherans Move To Replace Bars To Remarriage

Conscience
Would Guide
Divorcee

... Plain-Spoken Report

By GEORGE CORNELL
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A major Protestant church Monday weighed a plan to remove its long-time technical bars to remarriage of divorced persons — and substitute restrictions based on conscience.

The proposal before the biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church was part of a plain-spoken, comprehensive report on Christian teachings concerning love, sex, marriage and family life.

It is described as the most probing analysis of its kind ever drawn up by the 24-million-member church, largest Lutheran denomination in the country.

8,000 Word Document

Aimed at reinforcing moral spots in contemporary moral attitudes and practices, the 8,000-word document gives a candid assessment of man-woman relationships from youth up in light of the Gospels.

A committee, headed by the Rev. William C. Zimman, Dayton, Ohio, assisted by a group of five married women, worked on the report for three years.

Among other things, it provides for dropping the church's quarter-century-old rule allowing only the "innocent party" in a divorce granted for adultery or desertion to remarry in the church.

Instead, the new code views both parties as being at fault.

It declares that any marriage breakup "involves sin and suffering" and violates "God's order," but it adds: "God in his love does accept the sinner and deals with him according to his need."

The revision wipes out an old requirement of a waiting period of at least a year before remarriage. The statement endorses birth control.

Misle's Low Bid Rejected; O'Shea Wins

The City Council has turned down the low bid of Misle Chevrolet Co. and paid an extra $440.26 to purchase 11 cars from O'Shea Rogers Co.

Misle had bid a total of $15,861.75 for the 11 vehicles while O'Shea bid $16,302.01.

Five of the cars to be purchased are cruisers for the police department. Police Chief Joseph T. Carroll recommended the O'Shea bid to maintain a uniformity of models within the cruiser fleet.

He also cited the past favorable experience of the Department with Ford cars as furnished by O'Shea-Rogers and pointed to more efficient maintenance costs by retaining only one model of car.

Councilman Pat Ash made the motion for acceptance of the O'Shea bid, with the explanation that Misle did not meet specifications because his bid failed to list the individual allowance made on each of eight cars being traded in.

City Purchasing Agent Wayne Harvey had recommended the Misle bid. Harvey's recommendation stated that all bids received met the city's specifications.

U.N. Action Is Urged By Jordan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Jordan asked Monday for a Security Council session soon to act on its serious border troubles with Israel. Jordan's complaint charged 50 Jordanians have been killed in the last two big raids from Israel. Israel contends the raids are in retaliation for warlike acts by Jordan.

As the situation on the Israeli-Jordanian border grew more tense, the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission supervisor, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, reported Israel was refusing to cooperate with the Jordan - Israeli Mixed Armistice Commission.

He said Israel barred U.N. observers from investigations of incidents along the Israeli side of the border and declared this paralyzed operations of the truce organization's observation and investigation machinery.

Council Schedules Monday Van Dorn Sidewalk Hearing

The City Council has set next Monday as the date for hearing on a proposal to order sidewalks constructed along the south side of Van Dorn from 20th to 24th.

Capt. Willis Manchester of the Police Department traffic division told the Council that a survey of the area showed from 175 to 300 cars an hour over Van Dorn at 20th and 24th between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. From 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., he said, 21 children cross Van Dorn at 22nd and 52 cross at 24th.

The vehicle count, Manchester said, shows that the area is definitely in need of automatic school stop signs. Such signs are not recommended, he said, unless the traffic count is 500 to 700 cars. Manchester recommended continued use of the carry-out type of school stop sign at 20th and 22nd.

Lincoln Church, Youth Organizations To Start Halloween UNICEF Drive

Concerted efforts by Lincoln church and youth organizations will soon get under way for the UNICEF 1956 Halloween Drive.

About 20 representatives from the Lincoln Council of Churches, the Council of Church Women, PTA church groups, the Home School Association, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, the City Recreation Association, churches and synagogues, met Monday to plan the drive, at the home of Mrs. Arthur Smith, drive chairman.

UNICEF, which stands for United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, is supported by voluntary contributions from governments, foundations and individuals. Contributions are matched by recipient countries and the funds work for the elimination of diseases among children in 91 countries.

UNICEF films will be shown in all Lincoln elementary schools. The various church Sunday Schools will provide pamphlet explaining the purpose of the drive, which will be distributed by the children to families in their areas.

Children taking part will meet Halloween night at their particular group center, where they will have parties and traditional Halloween refreshments. From there they will go out, provided with UNICEF credentials, to request voluntary contributions of a few coins instead of the usual "tricks or treats."

The money they collect will be forwarded to UNICEF headquarters. The Lincoln program was begun in Lincoln in 1954 by Christ Methodist Church and grew last year to include 27 churches. A total of $1,370 was collected last year, all in small coin. Each recipient country matched its funds $3 to $1.

Ike Triggers Two Blasts From White House Which Start Upper Colorado River Projects

By EARLE L. JESTER
GLEN CANYON, Ariz. (AP)—A blast deep in the Colorado River's rock-walled canyon here and another 500 miles to the north began construction Monday on the biggest reclamation project ever authorized as a unit.

President Eisenhower tapped a telegraph key at the White House in Washington. The signal traveled along telephone lines and radio circuits.

Explosions rumbled and rock fell from a wall into which workers will bore a tunnel 45 feet in diameter. It, and another one like it on the opposite side of the river, will carry water of the Colorado around the construction site while men and machines build a 700-foot concrete dam.

Rocky Ledge
Three hundred miles to the north, on the Green River in Utah, a blast touched off at the same time stripped earth from a rocky ledge. It prepared the way for engineers to drill holes which will show them the foundation requirements of another dam, 500 feet high.

The two structures are units in the billion dollar Upper Colorado River project, largest ever approved by Congress at one time. Congress actually authorized construction costing 700 million dollars. Approval of other units must come later. It appropriated 11 million dollars for use in the current fiscal year.

Completion of the entire project will take decades.

"Precious"
In Washington, Eisenhower said the two dams are "much more than just big masonry projects."

Their construction, he said, will help preserve "one of our most precious resources, water."

The President referred to the "partnership concept" which has been a feature of the Eisenhower administration's power policy.

The Colorado project, he said, is "too large to be handled by local resources, so the federal government steps in, and gladly."

Infant Wolfe Girl Rites Wednesday

Judith Lynn Wolfe, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wolfe, of 1717 So. 25th, died Monday.

Graveside services will be held 11 a.m. Wednesday at Lincoln Memorial Park, with Dr. C. Van White officiating.

Surviving beside the parents are a brother, Roland John Wolfe III, at home, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wolfe Sr. of Lincoln, and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph M. Steinhil of Pawnee City.

Plans, Specifications On Storm Sewer OK'd

Plans and specifications have been approved by the City Council for construction of a storm sewer to cost an estimated $190,000 in an area bounded by Baldwin and Adams from 31st to 42nd.

Completion of the entire project will take decades.

In Washington, Eisenhower said the two dams are "much more than just big masonry projects."

Foreign Student Explains Rioting In Hong Kong

Most of the people of Hong Kong are law-abiding citizens in spite of recent rioting and the explosive situation in that part of the world, according to a student who was recently there.

Robert Soong, 19, freshman science student at Nebraska Wesleyan University, left Hong Kong in September after living there eight years.

Hong Kong is "terribly overcrowded," he noted, "and most of the two million Chinese refugees retain national loyalties. And many of them carry them to an extreme."

Soong said he saw a similar riot several years ago but didn't take part.

Robert was born in China and went to Hong Kong with his parents in 1948. He hopes to return to his homeland some day to pursue a career in science.

ITALIAN WHEAT EXPERTS ARRIVE TO BEGIN TOUR OF CITY, STATE

By RICHARD FELLMAN
Star Staff Writer

Members of the visiting delegation of Italian agricultural and business leaders, all of them closely connected with the milling industry of their country, arrived in Lincoln Monday and spent the night on the first stop of their ten-day visit in Nebraska.

The visiting group will travel throughout the state during the week and study at close hand the state's wheat industry from the field—where the wheat is just coming up—to the final stage when the wheat is sold on the market and then converted into foods and other products.

One special point of interest of the group will be the fields of hard red winter wheat in Nebraska. Experts have studied the uses of Nebraska's wheat and its use in Italy's large pasta industry.

The delegation included: Prof. Sabato Visco, chief of the delegation and director of the Italian National Nutrition Institute.

Luigi Persico, a teacher at an industrial school of baking in Turin, a representative of an Italian trade group and a representative of the Cuneo Rotarians.

Vincenzo Agosti, president of a large flour mill and pasta plant in Turin, a representative of the Italian trade group and president of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club of Turin.

Antonio Locca, director of the chemical laboratory of the Istituto, a pasta firm.

Antonio Perinetti, chief chemist for the preparation of Agricultural Cooperatives of Italy.

Due to arrive next week in Lincoln is Dr. Pasquale Barracano, a teacher and consultant to the High Commission for Food of the Italian government.

Accompanying the visiting group were Henry A. Baehr, a marketing specialist with the Foreign Agriculture Service of the United States Department of Agriculture; Carson Smith, chairman of the Nebraska Wheat Commission; Carl Bruns, vice president of the Nebraska Wheat Grower's Association; Leslie Sheffield, chief of the Nebraska Wheat Commission, and an interpreter, S. Salantino, of Omaha, a representative of the Italian Consul.

The men spent Monday in Omaha visiting at the Wheat Exchange, Nebraska Consolidated Mills and touring Boys Town.

Speaking for the entire group, Finzi said they were all "very glad" to be in this country touring and studying in Nebraska. He especially commented on the "wonderful hospitality" they had received. Finzi said that all of them "enjoyed the really beautiful Boys Town, which we have heard so much about."

The delegation expects to arrive in Lincoln late Saturday evening and remain here until Wednesday, spending time in and around Lincoln at various points of interest, at locations of particular interest to them and the wheat industry and at the College of Agriculture. Their trip will then continue into Kansas and Oklahoma.

Ike Triggers Two Blasts From White House Which Start Upper Colorado River Projects

By EARLE L. JESTER
GLEN CANYON, Ariz. (AP)—A blast deep in the Colorado River's rock-walled canyon here and another 300 miles to the north began construction Monday on the biggest reclamation project ever authorized by a unit.

President Eisenhower tapped a telegraph key at the White House in Washington. The signal traveled along telephone lines and radio circuits.

Explosions rumbled and rock fell from a wall into which workers will bore a tunnel 45 feet in diameter. It, and another one like it on the opposite side of the river, will carry water of the Colorado around the construction site while men and machines build a 700-foot concrete dam.

Three hundred miles to the north, on the Green River in Utah, a blast touched off at the same time stripped earth from a rocky ledge. It prepared the way for engineers to drill holes which will show them the foundation requirements of another dam, 500 feet high.

The two structures are units in the billion dollar Upper Colorado River project, largest ever approved by Congress at one time. Congress actually authorized construction costing 760 million dollars. Approval of other units must come later. It appropriated 13 million dollars for use in the current fiscal year.

Completion of the entire project will take decades.

"Precious"

In Washington, Eisenhower said the two dams are "much more than just big masonry projects." Their construction, he said, will help preserve "one of our most precious resources, water."

The President referred to the "partnership concept" which has been a feature of the Eisenhower administration's power policy.

The Colorado project, he said, is "too large to be handled by local resources, so the federal government steps in, and gladly."

Visitors From Italy Study Itinerary

Shown studying a map of Nebraska and the itinerary they will follow are members from the visiting delegation of Italian industrial and government officials connected with that nation's wheat and milling industry. From left to right are Carl Bruns, Ettore Finzi, Sabato Visco, Vincent Agnesi and Henry A. Baehr. The group spent Monday evening in Lincoln, preparing to travel in the western part of the state before their return to Lincoln late Saturday evening. (Star Photo.)

Foreign Student Explains Rioting In Hong Kong

Most of the people of Hong Kong are law-abiding citizens in spite of recent rioting and the explosive situation in that part of the world, according to a student who was recently there.

Robert Soong, 19, freshman science student at Nebraska Wesleyan University, left Hong Kong in September after living there eight years.

Hong Kong is "terribly overcrowded," he noted, "and most of the two million Chinese refugees retain national loyalties. And many of them carry them to an extreme."

Soong said he saw a similar riot several years ago but didn't take part.

Robert was born in China and went to Hong Kong with his parents in 1948. He hopes to return to his homeland some day to pursue a career in science.

ITALIAN WHEAT EXPERTS ARRIVE TO BEGIN TOUR OF CITY, STATE

By RICHARD FELLMAN
Star Staff Writer

Members of the visiting delegation of Italian agricultural and business leaders, all of them closely connected with the milling industry of their country, arrived in Lincoln Monday and spent the night on the first stop of their ten-day visit in Nebraska.

The visiting group will travel throughout the state during the week and study at close hand the state's wheat industry from the field—where the wheat is just coming up—to the final stage when the wheat is sold on the market and then converted into foods and other products.

One special point of interest of the group will be the fields of hard red winter wheat in Nebraska. Experts have studied the uses of Nebraska's wheat and its use in Italy's large pasta industry.

The delegation included: Prof. Sabato Visco, chief of the delegation and director of the Italian National Nutrition Institute.

Luigi Persico, a teacher at an industrial school of baking in Turin, a representative of an Italian trade group and a representative of the Chiare Rotarians.

Vincent Agnesi, of Imperia, the president of a large flour mill and pasta plant. Richard Agnesi, son of Vincent Agnesi, and a recently graduated electrical engineer now going into one of the family's enterprises.

Antonio Cocozza, the manager of a flour mill in Bari, a representative of an Italian trade group, and president of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club of Imperia.

Ettore Finzi, director of the chemical laboratory of the Buitoni Co., a pasta firm.

Antonio Perinetti, chief chemist for the Federation of Agricultural Co-operatives of Italy.

Due to arrive next week in Lincoln is Dr. Pasquale Barracano, a teacher and consultant to the High Commission for Food of the Italian government.

Accompanying the visiting group were Henry A. Baehr, a marketing specialist with the Foreign Agriculture Service of the United States Department of Agriculture; Carson Smith, chairman of the Nebraska Wheat Growers' Association; Carl Bruns, vice president of the Nebraska Wheat Commission; and Leslie Sheffield, chief of the Nebraska Wheat Commission, and an interpreter, S. Salanitro, of Omaha, a representative of the Italian Consul.

The men spent Monday in Omaha visiting at the Wheat Exchange, Nebraska Consolidated Mills and touring Boys Town.

Speaking for the entire group, Finzi said they were all "very glad" to be in this country touring and studying in Nebraska. He especially commented on the "wonderful hospitality" they had received. Finzi said that all of them "enjoyed the really beautiful Boys Town, which we have heard so much about."

The delegation expects to arrive in Lincoln late Saturday evening and remain here until Wednesday, spending time in and around Lincoln at various points of interest, at locations of particular interest to them and the wheat industry and at the College of Agriculture. Their trip will then continue into Kansas and Oklahoma.

Missing Fall Colors

To the west of the Mississippi there was good news and resulting cheer for portions of the great North American plains. Portions of Iowa reported rain, Des Moines coming up with more than two inches.

There was a deluge in drought-stricken Tulsa. And to the west, beyond the plains, the high peaks of the Rockies were covered with snow. All this is important. The water shortage has become increasingly critical.

The acuteness of the drought afflicting much of the Midwest finds confirmation in the absence of autumn's traditional brilliant color. In much of Nebraska, for example, the transition of trees and shrubs from green foliage to brilliant yellows and scarlet has not been taking place. Even the familiar red of clumps of sumac, normally heralding the approach of Nebraska winter, is absent from the roads leading through the countryside.

Fall, when it follows traditional lines in Nebraska, is one of the most beautiful seasons of the year. There is the purple of the hillsides in the late afternoon sun. There is the maze of color marking the courses of winding streams through the valleys. We miss these in this fall of 1956.

Last Call For Voters

The Lancaster county election commissioner's office added night sessions to its regular daytime service Monday—a timely reminder that the November elections are hastening toward us and that not too many days remain for those who have not registered.

The registration books will close at 5 p.m. October 26—a week from Thursday. Meantime, the Lincoln office will remain open until 9 p.m. week days. It will close at noon Saturday as usual.

Lincoln residents who will not have taken care of registration by a week from Thursday might not be permitted to vote. This is of principal interest to young people who recently came of voting age, to those who are newcomers and to those who have changed residence since last registering.

A thumbnail sketch of Lincoln registration as far showed potential registrations of between 70,000 and 75,000. But the commissioner's office believed that a practical total would be 60,000. As the books stood Monday morning 52,900 had registered. That means that registrations will finish at 60,000 the office will have to take care of 7,000 during the coming 10 days—an average of 700 a day.

If there has been a quickening of interest in the coming election over former elections, it is not evident. The office said total registration at this stage approximately equals that at the same juncture in 1952. However, 60,000 registrations out of a possible 70-75,000 represent a rather high percentage of active voters.

Study In Contrasts

Nebraska is on its social mettle this week for it has distinguished guests from Italy.

Nine officials of the Italian Wheat Importation Agency, responding to an invitation from Nebraska wheat growers, have started a 10-day tour which will take them to the state's principal wheat growing areas. They will study production and marketing facilities, visiting at least four farms and numerous communities. It is no secret that this hands across the sea event has business as well as social connotations. The Italian group means to know more about the product they are buying and whatever more that can be learned to stimulate further production of wheat in Italy. The Nebraskans are out to encourage a bigger foreign market for a product that is in surplus in this country, but yet which is of so much importance to the Nebraska economy.

Anent the visit there are curious facts not directly connected with hospitality and business. The United States officially has been moving away from substantial price supports for wheat under the general impression that they have a bad influence on surplus production. An administration argument has it that scarcity will seek a parity of price for wheat in the open market.

Italy has a permanent scarcity. It cannot produce enough wheat for its own needs and maintains a permanent wheat importation agency whose representatives are currently with us. Yet a glance at the record shows that Italy in scarcity has higher wheat supports than the United States with its surplus. Its 1954-55 wheat price support was $3.65 a bushel. It has no thought of sending its farmers into the open market to seek parity, but it has sufficient concern for its agricultural economy, even be it a deficit economy, not to risk its abandonment or collapse by following such a hazardous course as the present federal administration has mapped out for American agriculture.

A Lost Question

Off-season reports by Senate investigating committees usually evoke something less than deserved interest. But during presidential campaigning time they suffer the additional hazard of not only being ignored but trampled into extinction.

That is in prospect for the interim report of Senator Hubert Humphrey, whose subcommittee on disarmament has given voice to a number of unheeded questions.

One of them is why should there be a White House adviser on disarmament when international relations are the first duty of the State department?

It might be a fair question to ask why Harold Stassen, who is the White House adviser on the subject, and a three-year worker for the cause which has not yielded to his ministrations, has not achieved greater results. But most people will agree that disarmament is today such a desirable and important goal that it deserves the stature of standing alone. The office should not be abolished.

There can be weakness in the disarmament movement in unrealistic and ineffectual efforts abroad. But there can also be weaknesses on the home front, especially noted where more emphasis is put on armament, and where disarmament remains in the field of wishful speculation never being allowed in practice to influence any decisions.

Important Period

The period from October 15 to November 15 is one to be marked on Nebraska calendars. It represents the time during which Christmas packages should be mailed to servicemen overseas. And remember 50 pounds is the limit for any one package, inflammables are not acceptable and there are restrictions on coffee and tobacco in certain areas.

GOP Hires Former McCarthy Cohort

WASHINGTON — In both business and politics you have to be careful whom you hire and who your associates are. Yet the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee has hired as its Radio-TV Director the man who used an introduction from anti-Semitic Gerald L. K. Smith to smear Mrs. Anna Rosenberg when she was up for confirmation as Assistant Secretary of Defense.

He is Ed Nellor, former cohort and satellite of Sen. Joe McCarthy, who during the bitter battle to defeat Mrs. Rosenberg took a trip to New York with McCarthy's investigator Don Surine, who has been employed by the Aian League.

At the instance of Nellor and Surine, Freedman came to Washington to work against Mrs. Rosenberg together with an ex-Communist named Ralph De So'a who claimed Mrs. Rosenberg had been a Communist member of the John Reed Club.

Later, Sen. Kefauver read to the Senate the text of a cable sent by Freedman, the man Nellor had helped bring to Washington to Ahmad Haussell, head of the Young Egypt Party, which said:

"Dearest Brother: Letter received. Attending everything requested. Very busy with United Nations situation. Extend immense wishes for continued vision, courage, strength, struggle on behalf justice for people. Giving him fullest cooperation. Family send all love."

His "eminent" was identified as the Mufti of Jerusalem, subsidized by Hitler to stir up anti-Jewish hatred during the war.

When Kefauver and Senator Russell of Georgia dug into the charges against Mrs. Rosenberg, here is some of the false evidence they found had been encouraged by Surine and Nellor, now Radio-TV Director for the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee. Senator Russell, who were the members of this committee that we discussed it (Mrs. Rosenberg's confirmation) with."

De So'a the gentleman was introduced to me as one of the investigators of your committee."

Freedman: No, somebody telephoned me from Washington and said: "Two men are coming up to see you about Rosenberg."

Sen. Russell: Who telephoned you from Washington?

Freedman: Mr. Smith.

Sen. Russell: Do you know his business?

Freedman: I think he is in the publishing business—it is this Gerald Smith.

Sen. Russell: Gerald L. K. Smith?

Freedman: Yes.

Sen. Russell: Just what did Mr. Smith tell you?

Freedman: He said: "There are two men on their way to New York to see you."

Sen. Russell: What did they say when they came and rang your doorbell? Were you awake?

Freedman: They said they were investigating the Anna Rosenberg matter. And I didn't know whether they were reporters or FBI men, or what they were.

In the end, it was proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that Mrs. Rosenberg had never been a member of the John Reed Club, never had any Communist connections. After many heartaches and headlines, she was unanimously confirmed by the Senate. (Copyright, 1956, by Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Hon. Superintendents Of Sidewalks Assn.

There was a building project getting under way and a great diesel shovel was snapping at the earth and spitting out its distasteful mouthfuls into dump trucks that kept going away somewhere.

There was, also, the usual crowd standing against the wooden railing that divided the construction job from the public. The people had the look of those who are mesmerized. Some of them stared intently at the diesel shovel, as if expecting it to upend and lift its cab instead of its shovel on the next bite. Others seemed just to stare out across the excavation.

"This is something I can never understand," I told Mrs. F. "Why do supposedly intelligent people stand by the hour gazing at a piece of machinery that does the same thing over and over?"

Mrs. F. said she didn't know, but she thought it was silly. She said she would much rather go shopping.

"I'll tell you what," I said. "There is an interesting problem in human behavior here, and just wondering about it will never let me understand it. You go ahead with your shopping, and I'll mangle with these cattle and see if I can find out what makes them act as they do."

She went off down the street and I edged in beside a well fed, well-dressed individual who looked like he might be a corporation president in his better moments. I thought he would be a good subject for research.

West Coast Effort Satisfies Adlai

LOS ANGELES—Adlai Stevenson has returned home to regroup his forces for another onslaught on the urban North. He left the Pacific Coast well satisfied that he had stiffened the spines of the hard working party organization against a fatal last-minute letdown.

At stake are 47 electoral votes, 72 of them in California. Democrats temper hope with wariness as they review their prospects. They feel they have started a trend, but they are uncertain about its size and they fear the effect of President Eisenhower's westward swing and the GOP TV blitz scheduled for the next two weeks.

The size of their job here shows in a simple statistic. The President carried California in 1952 by 700,000 among five million votes cast. While registration has reached a new high with Democrats getting the lion's share, the California voter still tends to choose people, not parties.

In an effort to change that, Democratic candidates are putting the party label on their billboards and efforts. The minority Republicans naturally do not.

Stevenson assured party officials here that he would continue his smash offensive against the President and the "big business" administration up to the end. This is what they like in the precincts where Democrats must look for success in the absence of some overriding issue or dismal, obvious administration failure.

The "new faces" show he brought with him—Governors Clement, Meyner and Leader, Senators Gore and Humphrey—stayed behind for small private meetings, chiefly to raise funds. A fair sample of what these experienced voters said there about the present shape of the campaign goes about like this:

The campaign has not yet been won or lost by either side. It could still go either way, it could be close. We do not now see a landslide, but since it is an electoral college proposition and not a question of the popular majority, we can't be sure.

In every campaign we look for the "breaks," candidates usually get pieces of bad or good luck which are kind of accidental, they can't be foreseen and they can't be prevented. Those breaks haven't occurred yet on either side.

The Democratic party organization is exceeding our hopes everywhere; it actually looks this year except for a few spots like Kentucky that Democrats like to fight. Republicans better than other Democrats. Candidates are doing the good job we were sure they would.

The foregoing appraisal ends, of course, with explanations of the need for funds for TV and for the organization drive to get voters to the polls. (Copyright, 1956, by U.F. Syndicate, Inc.)

The moonlight falls the softest in Kentucky. The summer days come slowest in Kentucky. Friendship is the strongest, love's light glows the longest, and wrong is always wrongest in Kentucky.

The sun shines ever brightest in Kentucky. The bluebirds sing loudest in Kentucky. Plain girls are the fairest, their little hearts are truest, maidens' eyes the bluest in Kentucky.

dogwood, etc. more intense in reds, yellows, mahogany, and bronze. A wonderful display of nature's beauty for my homecoming. It had been 20 years since I'd been down around Glasgow.

There are so many more varieties of oaks than we have here in Nebraska. Our pin oaks are the showiest in Lincoln with now and then a red oak. But do you know that we have growing in Lincoln a very fine specimen of Ohio buckeye? While a close relative of the horse chestnut, they are not one and the same. The horse chestnut has leaves of five sections like hand and turns golden yellow when touched by frost, but the Ohio buckeye flaunts seven sections and turns the most eye-catching red in autumn.

Pictured today we have the Ohio buckeye growing at the home of Miss Flora and Miss Edna Bullock, 1100 North 37th (corner of Apple Street). It was a glowing red in our prairie sunsets last week, but the wayward prairie winds of the week end have played havoc with many of its gorgeous leaves. Miss Flora Bullock remembers that a half dozen "buckeyes" were sent them from Ohio about 35 years ago and dutifully planted. Go by and see this majestic tree before the leaves have all fallen. The neighborhood squirrels plant the buckeyes each autumn for winter feasts and then forget some, for each spring, Miss Bullock tells us, one may find many seedlings round and about their lawn.

October's moon is in second quarter and today it is in the flexed, watery and fruitful sign, Pisces. At 10:33 tomorrow morning it will enter movable, fiery and very barren sign, Aries. Thursday morning at 11:23 a.m. third lunar quarter will begin and Thursday night just after six o'clock the moon will enter the fixed, earthy and semi-fruitful sign, Taurus. Sunday near midnight it will enter the flexed, airy and barren sign, Gemini.

So until another day—

Soil Bank Program

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have been reading about soil bank proposals — that the government would allot $35,000 to the drought-stricken farmers in Nebraska, that the average allotment would be $9 per acre, that the government would loan farmers money to buy. Nothing about where they would get the grain feeds. Evidently the farmer would have to borrow money for that purpose. With the risk of borrowing, just where will all this help land the farmer? The whole farm program is the biggest joke ever perpetrated and ought to be repealed so that the farmer isn't kept guessing where he will land.

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: There was a time when the state of Iowa was a corn and oats state. Nebraska was corn, oats, wheat and alfalfa state. The Gold Standard, with all its faults, was out of everyone's pockets, and if the soil bank is to take the place of the Gold Standard, it will throw the largest share on the farmers. The soil bank could turn into something like a dictator. A person should not take the old tractor apart and think the factory did not know how to build it if they are not sure they can buy a new one. There is something that makes crops grow more with the rain.

Poetry Day

Lakeland, Fla.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Nebraska, one of our frontier states, is blazing a new frontier—that of poetry. Here the gold of the spirit is being mined. Through her poets and their two main organizations, Midwest Chaparral Poets and Arts Poetica Association, Nebraska has been coming to the foreground as a state where poetry flourishes and where the appreciation of poetry is being encouraged.

Therefore, it is not surprising that the observance of Nebraska Poetry Day is gathering momentum like a rolling snowball. Much credit is due to our valued Poetry Day chairman for Nebraska, Grace Votaw, who has worked untiringly to put Nebraska Poetry Day across. To her, to my fellow poets in Nebraska and to the Midwest Chaparral and to the splendid Arts Poetica which recently honored me with membership, I extend hearty greetings for Poetry Day and for the furtherance of the idealism that Poetry alone can communicate.

Missing Fall Colors

To the west of the Mississippi there was good news and resulting cheer for portions of the great North American plains. Portions of Iowa reported rain, Des Moines coming up with more than two inches.

There was a deluge in drought-stricken Tulsa. And to the west, beyond the plains, the high peaks of the Rockies were covered with snow. All this is important. The water shortage has become increasingly critical.

The acuteness of the drought afflicting much of the Midwest finds confirmation in the absence of autumn's traditional brilliant color. In much of Nebraska, for example, the transition of trees and shrubs from green foliage to brilliant yellows and scarlet has not been taking place. Even the familiar red of clumps of sumac, normally heralding the approach of Nebraska winter, is absent from the roads leading through the countryside.

Fall, when it follows traditional lines in Nebraska, is one of the most beautiful seasons of the year. There is the purple of the hillside in the late afternoon sun. There is the maze of color marking the courses of winding streams through the valleys. We miss these in this fall of 1956.

Last Call For Voters

The Lancaster county election commissioner's office added night sessions to its regular day-time service Monday—a timely reminder that the November elections are hastening toward us and that not too many days remain for those who have not registered.

The registration books will close at 5 p.m. October 26—a week from Thursday. Meantime, the Lincoln office will remain open until 9 p.m. week days. It will close at noon Saturday as usual.

Lincoln residents who will not have taken care of registration by a week from Thursday night will not be permitted to vote. This is of principal interest to young people who recently came of voting age, to those who are newcomers and to those who have changed residence since last registering.

Study In Contrasts

Nebraska is on its social mettle this week for it has distinguished guests from Italy.

Nine officials of the Italian Wheat Importation Agency, responding to an invitation from Nebraska wheat growers, have started a 10-day tour which will take them to the state's principal wheat growing areas. They will study production and marketing facilities, visiting at least four farms and numerous communities. It is no secret that this hands-across-the-sea event has business as well as social connotations. The Italian group means to know more about the product they are buying and whatever more that can be learned to stimulate further production of wheat in Italy. The Nebraskans are out to encourage a bigger foreign market for a product that is in surplus in this country, but yet which is of so much importance to the Nebraska economy.

A neat visit there are curious facts not directly connected with hospitality and business. The United States officially has been moving away from substantial price supports for wheat under the general impression that they have a bad influence on surplus production. An administration argument has it that scarcity will seek a parity of price for wheat in the open market.

Italy has a permanent scarcity. It cannot produce enough wheat for its own needs and maintains a permanent wheat importation agency whose representatives are currently with us. Yet a glance at the record shows that Italy in scarcity has higher wheat supports than the United States with its surplus. Its 1954-55 wheat price support was $3.05 a bushel. It has no thought of sending its farmers into the open market to seek parity, but it has sufficient concern for its agricultural economy, even be it a deficit economy, not to risk its abandonment or collapse by following such a hazardous course as the present federal administration has mapped out for American agriculture.

A Lost Question

Off-season reports by Senate investigating committees usually evoke something less than deserved interest. But during presidential campaigning time they suffer the additional hazard of not only being ignored but trampled into extinction.

That is in prospect for the interim report of Senator Hubert Humphrey, whose subcommittee on disarmament has given voice to a number of unheeded questions.

One of them is why should there be a White House adviser on disarmament when international relations are the first duty of the State department?

It might be a fair question to ask why Harold Stassen, who is the White House adviser on the subject, and a three-year worker for the cause which has not yielded to his ministrations, has not achieved greater results. But most people will agree that disarmament is today such a desirable and important goal that it deserves the stature of standing alone. The office should not be abolished.

There can be weakness in the disarmament movement in unrealistic and ineffectual efforts abroad. But there can also be weaknesses on the home front, especially noted where more emphasis is put on armament, and where disarmament remains in the field of wistful speculation never being allowed in practice to influence any decisions.

Important Period

The period from October 15 to November 15 is one to be marked on Nebraska calendars. It represents the time during which Christmas packages should be mailed to servicemen overseas. And remember 50 pounds is the limit for any one package, inflammables are not acceptable and there are restrictions on coffee and tobacco in certain areas.

GOP Hires Former McCarthy Cohort

WASHINGTON — In both business and politics you have to be careful whom you hire and who your associates are. Yet the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee has hired as its Radio-TV Director the man who used an introduction from anti-Semitic Gerald L. K. Smith to smear Mrs. Anna Rosenberg when she was up for confirmation as Assistant Secretary of Defense.

He is Ed Nellor, former cohort and satellite of Sen. Joe McCarthy, who during the bitter battle to defeat Mrs. Rosenberg, took a trip to New York with McCarthy's investigator, Don Surine, to see Benjamin Freedman, ex-Jew who has been employed by the Arab League.

At the instance of Nellor and Surine, Freedman came to Washington to work against Mrs. Rosenberg, together with an ex-Communist named Ralph De Sola who claimed Mrs. Rosenberg had been a Communist member of the John Reed Club.

Later, Sen. Kefauver read to the Senate the text of a cable sent by Freedman, the man Nellor had helped bring to Washington, to Ahmad Houssein, head of the Young Egypt Party, which said:

"Dearest Brother: Letter received. Attending everything requested. Very busy with United Nations situation. Extend eminence wishes for continued vision, courage, strength, struggle on behalf justice his people. Giving him fullest cooperation. Family send all love."

His "eminence" was identified as the Mufti of Jerusalem, subsidized by Hitler to stir up anti-Jewish hatred during the war.

When Kefauver and Senator Russell of Georgia dug into the charges against Mrs. Rosenberg, here is some of the false evidence they found had been encouraged by Surine and Nellor, now Radio-TV Director for the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee:

Senator Russell: Who were the members of this committee that you discussed it (Mrs. Rosenberg's confirmation) with?

De Sola: The gentleman was introduced to me as one of the investigators of your committee.

Cross-examining Freedman, Sen. Russell asked: You did not ask them any questions — people coming to your home at 12 o'clock at night?

Freedman: No, somebody telephoned me from Washington and said: "Two men are coming up to see you about Rosenberg."

Sen. Russell: Who telephoned you from Washington?

Freedman: Mr. Smith.

Sen. Russell: Do you know his business?

Freedman: I think he is in the publishing business—it is this Gerald Smith.

Sen. Russell: Gerald L. K. Smith?

Freedman: Yes.

Sen. Russell: Just what did Mr. Smith tell you?

Freedman: He said, "There are two men on their way to New York to see you."

Sen. Russell: What did they say when they came and rang your doorbell? Were you awake?"

Freedman: They said they were investigating the Anna Rosenberg matter. And I didn't know whether they were reporters or FBI men, or what they were.

In the end, it was proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that Mrs. Rosenberg had never been a member of the John Reed Club, never had any Communist connections. After many heartaches and headlines, she was unanimously confirmed by the Senate. (Copyright, 1956, by Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

I flew to Louisville, Kentucky, on October 3 for the 57th autumn meeting, rose show and garden tour of the American Rose Society. Three whole days of roses, and what a lot of knowledge I picked up! Last year I attended the 56th autumn meeting in Tyler, Texas. It is a privilege to see how they grow and love the queen of all flowers in different sections of our America.

There was, however, a special urge that prompted me to attend this meeting in Louisville. I was born in Kentucky and although we've lived in Nebraska since I was two years old, I do have roots in Kentucky.

I motored down to Glasgow from Louisville on Sunday, October 7—as fair a day as the heart could wish. The new Kentucky Turnpike, a toll road, from Louisville to Elizabethtown is 40 miles of motoring comfort and pleasure. The country was simply radiant in autumn colors, with goldenrod and wild asters of purple and white, and now and then the bright blue stars of chicory to gladden my way. I wondered if there had been frost or rain in Nebraska. There had been three days of almost steady rain, they said, in Kentucky and several mornings of thick fog while I was in Louisville. Small wonder the countryside was so superb in autumn attire with all that moisture. A light frost on Sunday night around Glasgow made all the trees, shrubs and very plentiful "timbers" of oak, sweet gum, beech, chestnut, Ohio buckeye, sycamore,

Star Reporter Campbell Wins 1st In Photo Contest

... Paper Gets Three Awards From Inland Press

The Lincoln Star received three awards Monday in the 16th annual news picture contest sponsored by Northwestern University for the Inland Daily Press Association. They were part of 59 awards to 32 daily newspapers out of a record 923 entries in the contest.

Roy Campbell, Star reporter-photographer, won first place in the spot news division with his picture, "Walking Reformatory Rioters Back Home."

The picture was taken September 9, 1955, when inmates of the State Reformatory rioted and set fire to the carpentry building.

Policeman
Frank O'Neill, an employee of The Journal-Star Printing Co., received awards in the picture series and sports section for pictures that appeared in The Star.

In the picture series, O'Neill won with "Ballet on Main Street," photographs of a Lincoln policeman directing traffic. A rodeo picture, "At the End of His Rope," was a winner in the sports section.

Bob Gorman and R. L. McKay, employees of The Journal - Star Printing Co., won awards in the picture series and sports for work published in The Lincoln Journal. Gorman's feature shot, "I'll Bet His Knees Are Cold," shows a winter scene of Salvation Army Capt. Walter Kennedy in his Scottish kilts.

Bulldog
The picture series, "Mike Joins the Marines," by McKay, shows photographs of a bulldog named mascot of a Lincoln Marine unit. First place in the contest went to William Deluga of the Chicago Daily News for his picture, "Dreams of Glory." It showed a small girl in a dance studio imitating the pose of a ballerina.

News pictures, published during the period from April 15, 1955, to Sept. 1, 1956, were entered by 222 photographers on inland newspapers. The awards were presented at the Association's annual meeting in Chicago.

Judges were Prof. Floyd Arpan of Northwestern University's Medill School of Journalism; Gene Schroeder, bureau manager for International News Service in Chicago, and Harold Gully, central division manager of United Press News Pictures in Chicago.

Expansion Of Benson Campaign Is Advocated By Sen. Hruska

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP) — Senator Roman Hruska said Monday he has told Washington Republican headquarters that the farm country campaign by Agriculture Secretary Benson "should be continued and expanded as much as possible."

The Republican senator was here with the Republican campaign caravan.

Hruska said he had traveled with the secretary across Nebraska and that Benson's "competent and able presentation of facts and his forthright sincere personality will contribute much to Republican victory in November."

"Revolt Myth Destroyed"

"Benson's visit to Nebraska thoroughly destroyed the myth of a farmer's revolt. It dispelled the idea that there is any widespread rejection of the Eisenhower farm program," he said.

"The crowds coming to hear him were substantial. They were respectful and sympathetic. Mr. Benson was given a fair chance to present his views and it was clear that he won over many of his listeners and made many friends."

Rep. Miller joined the caravan Monday as it moved into his Fourth District for a week's swing.

The caravan started out from Lexington Monday, visited Cozad and Gothenburg before going to North Platte, Stapleton and Arnold. The group spent the night in Broken Bow.

Tuesday the caravan will stop at Sargent, Taylor, Burwell, Bartlett, O'Neill, Atkinson, Bassett and Ainsworth.

Rev. Harris Dies; Pastor 52 Years

KEYSTONE, Neb. — The Rev. James E. Harris, 78, pastor of the Presbyterian Church here for the past two years, died in La Grange, Ill., after becoming ill while visiting with his son, the Rev. James W. Harris and family.

The elder Rev. Harris served pastorates in Ohio and Indiana before going to Akron, Colo., in 1925. Coming to Nebraska in 1932, he served at Beaver City and at Laurel before returning to Colorado and becoming pastor at Wray, Colo. He served at Loup City and Edgar, Neb., before going to Keystone. While he was pastor at Edgar in 1954, the Rev. Mr. Harris observed his 50th anniversary in the ministry with special services.

Expansion Of Benson Campaign Is Advocated By Sen. Hruska

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP) — Senator Roman Hruska said Monday he has told Washington Republican headquarters that the farm country campaign by Agriculture Secretary Benson "should be continued and expanded as much as possible."

The Republican senator was here with the Republican campaign caravan.

Hruska said he had traveled with the secretary across Nebraska and that Benson's "competent and able presentation of facts and his forthright sincere personality will contribute much to Republican victory in November."

"Revolt Myth Destroyed"

"Benson's visit to Nebraska thoroughly destroyed the myth of a farmer's revolt. It dispelled the idea that there is any widespread rejection of the Eisenhower farm program," he said.

"The crowds coming to hear him were substantial. They were respectful and sympathetic. Mr. Benson was given a fair chance to present his views and it was clear that he won over many of his listeners and made many friends."

Rep. Miller joined the caravan Monday as it moved into his Fourth District for a week's swing.

The caravan started out from Lexington Monday, visited Cozad and Gothenburg before going to North Platte, Stapleton and Arnold. The group spent the night in Broken Bow.

Tuesday the caravan will stop at Sargent, Taylor, Burwell, Bartlett, O'Neill, Atkinson, Bassett and Ainsworth.

Demo Flies Into
N.Y. From GOP
Vermont Bastion

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver flew into New York City late Monday from Vermont, where he assailed Vice President Nixon as a man "trying to get into the White House on false promises, a false front and a false face."

Kefauver hammered at Nixon during the day as he carried his Democratic vice-presidential campaign into rock-ribbed Republican Vermont in a bid to crack the GOP's traditional hold on that state.

He was met by friendly crowds in four hours of open air talks and handshaking in the Burlington area, which has given local Democratic candidates strong support in other elections.

He told a crowd at the Burlington airport he thought "the Republicans themselves are looking with considerable alarm at Nixon being the chief member of the Republican party."

"Lame Duck"
Picturing Nixon as the heir apparent to "a lame duck President," Kefauver said "unquestionably in four more years Nixon will have it sewed up" if the Republicans win in November.

After arriving in New York City, Kefauver set out on a flying round of meetings on suburban Long Island.

Tuesday, aside from a morning press conference, his schedule kept him free to prepare for a national television and radio broadcast (ABC network) at 7 p.m. CST. Before going to the studio he is to dine with Gov. Averell Harriman.

In a statement made after landing in New York, Kefauver said he has found a "housewife's revolt" in progress against the Eisenhower administration for the "mounting cost of living under the GOP."

"Everywhere I have traveled, I have been struck by the intense interest women are demonstrating in this election," he said.

Statistics
"The Republicans keep talking about prosperity and pour out a stream of statistics to try to prove their case. But the women of America, who manage most of the family budget, know that statistics don't meet household bills which are the highest in history," Kefauver added that "misleading statistics" also fail to help the men folk "obtain credit at proper interest rates" under what he called the hard money fiscal policy of the Eisenhower administration.

But he said it was the housewives, "truly in revolt against the Eisenhower-Nixon team," whose vote "will be a decisive factor in achieving a Democratic victory three weeks from today."

In his brief invasion of Vermont, Kefauver leveled one of the strongest personal attacks of his campaign against Nixon.

Feeling "much better" but still slightly hoarse from a throat infection contracted in Nebraska last week, Kefauver left Washington Monday morning on a 12,000-mile swing that will take him into fourteen states in the next thirteen days.

Benefits Of Teaching Handicapped Urged Before Diocese Teacher Meet

"We can make taxpayers out of ten years with proper teaching methods for the handicapped," William Carriker, assistant director of special education told 206 Lincoln Diocese Catholic school teachers Monday.

The one-day Parochial School Teachers Institute featured seven sessions on special phases and problems important to the Catholic teacher.

Carriker and Dr. Marshall L. Hickey of the U of N Teachers College department of educational psychology and measurements spoke at an afternoon general session on "Exceptional Children, a Problem and a Challenge."

Need Experience
Both men stressed the need for experienced teachers in handling special handicapped children's classes.

"Teaching the handicapped is a tough job," Dr. Hickey said, "and it takes an experienced teacher to apply special training." He urged training teachers who have been dealing with children several years, rather than training college undergraduates with no teaching background.

At the concluding afternoon session Rt. Rev. Msgr. Maurice Helmann, of Lincoln, editor of The Southern Nebraska Register, stressed the use of increased public relations by parochial schools to "convince non-Catholics that we are not a nefarious influence but a complementing force trying to build not only good Catholics but also good Americans."

A QUICK LOOK AROUND TOWN

A QUICK look at the town this morning convinced us that activity is growing stronger by the moment. But before we begin the what-what around town we want to mention a guest who will be arriving later this week for a brief stay in Lincoln. He is Otis Taylor of New York City, and he comes to Lincoln from Madison, where he has been visiting relatives. Mr. Taylor, however, really is en route to his home from the west coast.

On Thursday evening Mr. Taylor will be honored most in-

Mayflower Group Meets

The 33rd annual meeting of the Nebraska Society of Mayflower Descendants was held at the Omaha Club on Sunday when the featured speaker and guest of the group was Waldo Morgan Allen of Chicago, governor general of the national society.

The program also included slides of the Mayflower Pilgrimage to England and Holland taken by 150 Mayflower Society members in September, 1955.

The following officers and board members will serve for the coming year: Walton C. Ferris, Lincoln, governor; W. L. Stebbins, Lincoln, deputy governor; Mrs. Boyd M. Raynor, Lincoln, secretary; E. Forrest Estes, Lincoln, treasurer; Miss Ruth Sumner, Omaha, historian; Levi K. Cramb, Fairbury, elder; John H. Cray, Guide Rock, captain; Dexter Buell, Omaha, surgeon; Mrs. W. J. Byer, Lincoln, education; Mrs. W. O. Johnson, Omaha, membership.

Board members are W. L. Greenslit, Mrs. Fred C. Williams and Walton B. Roberts, Lincoln; Mrs. Charles Lang, Mrs. E. P. Boyer, Mrs. Alfred W. Gordon and Sloan Allen, Omaha; and Miss Janet McDonald, North Platte.

formally at dinner when Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Woods entertain at their home, and on Friday evening he will be the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Raymond.

IF good planning and hard work have anything to do with it, the Junior League Follies of 1956 will be an unqualified success. The Follies, as you know, will be presented on Dec. 4th and 5th, and the committees in charge of the production are not letting the grass grow under their feet.

On Monday the members of the program committee, headed by Mrs. J. William Mowbray, Mrs. Richard Freeman, Mrs. Richard Smith and Mrs. John Angle, met for a 1 o'clock dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. Mowbray, to discuss details of the programs.

And on Wednesday Mrs. J.

Taylor Greer, chairman of the publicity committee, will meet with her committee when she entertains at a 1 o'clock dessert luncheon.

THE current interest this week is the Ak-Sar-Ben coronation and ball in Omaha on Friday and Saturday evenings, when three Lincoln girls, Miss Courtney Campbell, Miss Caroline Schimmel and Miss Jean Aitken will appear as countesses.

Lincoln members of the countesses' families will, of course, go to Omaha for the festivities, and accompanying Miss Campbell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Campbell, will be her brothers and sisters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell.

Coming from Denver to join her family for the coronation ceremonies will be Miss Campbell's sister, Mrs. James Nicola.

ALSO in Omaha on Friday evening for the procession of countesses will be Miss Schimmel's uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schimmel of Wichita, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schimmel of Galesburg, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schimmel who haven't far to go—they reside in Omaha. Miss Schimmel's aunt, Mrs. Irving Mendelson of Oyster Bay, Long Island, N.Y., will arrive in time for the coronation, and attending the ball on Saturday evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Al Lew of Kansas City.

MISS Aitken's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Aitken, will have as their coronation guests Mr. and Mrs. William I. Aitken and Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor Greer.

AND right now, before we go on to other matters, we want to tell you that young Mr. Pace arrived on Sunday, Oct. 14, at Lincoln General Hospital. The baby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pace, and his paternal grandmother is Mrs. J. E. O. Pace.

SOMEONE told us that Mrs. George Loveland is home from the hospital, and that she feels hale and hearty enough to see her friends. In fact Mrs. Loveland is planning to see as many as possible this afternoon when she entertains at an informal "at home" between the hours of 3 o'clock and 6 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Dr. Grace Loveland, with whom she resides.

Dr. Loveland, by the way, has just returned from Rochester, N.Y., where she attended the annual three-day meeting of the annual Medical Alumni Association of the University of Rochester. It was the 25th reunion of Dr. Loveland's class.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

As bears are drawn to honey, as ducks are drawn to water, thus are new residents and visitors drawn to Eastridge, or so it would seem in our column this morning. Just what magnetism is responsible for the sudden influx is hard to say, but if any popularity poll were to be taken, the Eastridge community would certainly rate high on the list today.

First let's take a look at our guest list for the past week. Last Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Eldridge of Fruitland, Idaho, arrived in Eastridge for a two weeks visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Eldridge.

Also visiting the Eldridges over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. William Rutz and their children, Jennifer and Rodger, of Manhattan, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Maser had as their guest last week-end Mrs. Maser's brother, Kenneth Larson, of San Francisco, Calif.

Now for a little session of the "meet your neighbor" club. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Burns moved into their new home at 847 Ferndale Rd. on Oct. 5. The Burns have three children, Bobby, Steven, and Vicki.

The Duane Ainlays and their three children, March, April, and Holly Christine have been residing in their new home at 1055 Eldon Dr. since Oct. 6. Mr. Ainlay is a vocal instructor at Millard Lefler Jr. High School.

Mrs. and Mrs. Warren Griffin and their two children, Beth and Patty, are new to Lincoln as well as to Eastridge. The Griffins, who were formerly from Montgomery, Ala., are residing at 925 Roberts Rd.

Moving into their new home last Friday were Mr. and Mrs. James Nissen and their children, Reg and Jeffery. The Nissens are residing at 939 Eldon Dr. Mrs. Nissen will be remembered as the former Ginger Hein, who was graduated from Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Mr. Nissen, also a graduate of Nebraska, is a member of Beta Theta Pi.

Turning from one new thing to another brings us to two new Bluebird Troops which have sprung up since our last chat. The eight members of Mrs. Fredrick Bockoven's group met for the first time last Thursday afternoon when the project was making paper dolls with fall leaves for their dresses. The new little Bluebirds in this group are Martha Bockoven, Letty Boucher, Victoria Dwyer, Leslie Ann Heilig, Patty Kay Miller, Shelly Zeilova, Janet Morris, and Leslie Jo Weeks.

Mrs. E. J. Beckman is the Troop leader of the other new Bluebird group whose members are Mary Katherine Freeman, Trudy Nyquist, Karen Rose, Gretchen Hedge, Linda Courtney, Rebecca Beckman, Janice Grenemeier, and Beverly Proctor. Entertainment for the first meeting yesterday afternoon centered around Miss Trudy Nyquist, who was celebrating her birthday. On Oct. 25 these two new groups will have a joint Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Sam Freeman.

PTA Groups Plan Meetings

The HUNTINGTON PTA board members will meet at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning at the West Huntington School. The meeting will be held in the teachers' room of the building.

The October meeting of LAKEVIEW PTA will be held Friday afternoon at the school. The program will begin at 2:30 o'clock and will be given by the pupils.

The Lincoln Community Playhouse officially opened its current season on Monday noon when the members of the board met at the Hotel Cornhusker for luncheon and to discuss final plans for its first production of the year, "The Tender Trap", to open on Wednesday.

New members of the board are Miss Sally Adams, editor of the Call Board, and Van Westover, president of the newly organized Backstage Club.

A QUICK look at the town this morning convinced us that activity is growing stronger by the moment—But before we begin the what's-what around town we want to mention a guest who will be arriving later this week for a brief stay in Lincoln. He is Otis Taylor of New York City, and he comes to Lincoln from Madison, where he has been visiting relatives. Mr. Taylor, however, really is en route to his home from the west coast.

On Thursday evening Mr. Taylor will be honored most informally at dinner when Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Woods entertain at their home, and on Friday evening he will be the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Raymond.

IF good planning and hard work have anything to do with it, the Junior League Follies of 1956 will be an unqualified success. The Follies, as you know, will be presented on Dec. 4th and 5th, and the committees in charge of the production are not letting the grass grow under their feet.

On Monday the members of the program committee, headed by Mrs. J. William Mowbray, Mrs. Richard Freeman, Mrs. Richard Smith and Mrs. John Angle, met for a 1 o'clock desert luncheon at the home of Mrs. Mowbray, to discuss details of the programs.

And on Wednesday Mrs. J.

Taylor Greer, chairman of the publicity committee, will meet with her committee when she entertains at a 1 o'clock desert luncheon.

THE current interest this week is the Ak-Sar-Ben coronation and ball in Omaha on Friday and Saturday evenings, when three Lincoln girls, Miss Courtney Campbell, Miss Caroline Schimmel and Miss Jean Aitken will appear as countesses.

Lincoln members of the countesses' families will, of course, go to Omaha for the festivities, and accompanying Miss Campbell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Campbell, will be her brothers and sisters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell.

Coming from Denver to join her family for the coronation ceremonies will be Miss Campbell's sister, Mrs. James Nicola.

bell's sister, Mrs. James Nicola.

ALSO in Omaha on Friday evening for the procession of countesses will be Miss Schimmel's uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schimmel of Wichita, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schimmel of Galesburg, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schimmel who haven't far to go—they reside in Omaha. Miss Schimmel's aunt, Mrs. Irving Mendelson of Oyster Bay, Long Island, N.Y., will arrive in time for the coronation, and attending the ball on Saturday evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Al Lew of Kansas City.

MISS Aitken's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Aitken, will have as their coronation guests Mr. and Mrs. William I. Aitken and Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor Greer.

AND right now, before we go on to other matters, we want to tell you that young Mr. Pace arrived on Sunday, Oct. 14, at Lincoln General Hospital. The baby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pace, and his paternal grandmother is Mrs. I. E. O. Pace.

SOMEONE told us that Mrs. George Loveland is home from the hospital, and that she feels hale and hearty enough to see her friends. In fact Mrs. Loveland is planning to see as many as possible this afternoon when she entertains at an informal "at home" between the hours of 3 o'clock and 6 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Dr. Grace Loveland, with whom she resides.

Dr. Loveland, by the way, has just returned from Rochester, N.Y., where she attended the annual three-day meeting of the annual Medical Alumni Association of the University of Rochester. It was the 25th reunion of Dr. Loveland's class.

Mayflower Group Meets

The 33rd annual meeting of the Nebraska Society of Mayflower Descendants was held at the Omaha Club on Sunday when the featured speaker and guest of the group was Waldo Morgan Allen of Chicago, governor general of the national society.

The program also included slides of the Mayflower Pilgrimage to England and Holland taken by 150 Mayflower Society members in September, 1955.

The following officers and board members will serve for the coming year: Walton C. Ferris, Lincoln, governor; W. Irl Stebbins, Lincoln, deputy governor; Mrs. Boyd M. Raynor, Lincoln, secretary; E. Forrest Estes, Lincoln, treasurer; Miss Ruth Sumner, Omaha, historian; Levi K. Cramb, Fairbury, elder; John H. Crary, Guide Rock, captain; Dexter Buell, Omaha, surgeon; Mrs. W. J. Byer, Lincoln, education; Mrs. W. O. Johnson, Omaha, membership.

Board members are W. L. Greenslit, Mrs. Fred C. Williams and Walton B. Roberts, Lincoln; Mrs. Charles Lang, Mrs. E. P. Boyer, Mrs. Alfred W. Gordon and Sloan Allen, Omaha; and Miss Janet McDonald, North Platte.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

As bears are drawn to honey, as ducks are drawn to water, thus are new residents and visitors drawn to Eastridge, or so it would seem in our column this morning. Just what magnetism is responsible for the sudden influx is hard to say, but if any popularity poll were to be taken, the Eastridge community would certainly rate high on the list today.

First let's take a look at our guest list for the past week. Last Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Eldridge of Fruitland, Idaho, arrived in Eastridge for a two weeks visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Eldridge.

Also visiting the Eldridges over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. William Rutz and their children, Jennifer and Rodger, of Manhattan, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Maser had as their guest last week-end Mrs. Maser's brother, Kenneth Larson, of San Francisco, Calif.

Now for a little session of the "meet your neighbor" club. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Burns moved into their new home at 847 Ferndale Rd. on Oct. 5. The Burns have three children, Bobby, Steven, and Vicki.

The Duane Ainlays and their three children, March, April, and Holly Christine have been residing in their new home at 1035 Eldon Dr. since Oct. 6. Mr. Ainlay is a vocal instructor at Millard Lefler Jr. High School.

Mal and Mrs. Warren Griffin and their two children, Beth and Patty, are new to Lincoln as well as to Eastridge. The Griffins, who were formerly from Montgomery, Ala., are residing at 925 Roberts Rd.

Moving into their new home last Friday were Mr. and Mrs. James Nissen and their children, Reg and Jeffery. The Nissens are residing at 939 Eldon Dr. Mrs. Nissen will be remembered as the former Ginger Hein, who was graduated from Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Mr. Nissen, also a graduate of Nebraska, is a member of Beta Theta Pi.

Turning from one new thing to another brings us to two new Bluebird Troops which have sprung up since our last chat. The eight members of Mrs. Fredrick Bockoven's group met for the first time last Thursday afternoon when the project was making paper dolls with fall leaves for their dresses. The new little Bluebirds in this group are Martha Bockoven, Letty Boucher, Victoria Dwyer, Leslie Ann Heilig, Patty Kay Miller, Shelly Zeiluvu, Janet Morris, and Leslie Jo Weeks.

Mrs. E. J. Beckman is the Troop leader of the other new Bluebird group whose members are Mary Katherine Freeman, Trudy Nyquist, Karen Rose, Gretchen Hedge, Linda Courtney, Rebecca Beckman, Janice Grenemeier, and Beverly Proctor. Entertainment for the first meeting yesterday afternoon centered around Miss Trudy Nyquist, who was celebrating her birthday. On Oct. 25 these two new groups will have a joint Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Sam Freeman.

PTA Groups Plan Meetings

The HUNTINGTON PTA board members will meet at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning at the West Huntington School. The meeting will be held in the teachers' room of the building.

The October meeting of LAKEVIEW PTA will be held Friday afternoon at the school. The program will begin at 2:30 o'clock and will be given by the pupils.

Playhouse Board Plans Season

The Lincoln Community Playhouse officially opened its current season on Monday noon when the members of the board met at the Hotel Cornhusker for luncheon and to discuss final plans for its first production of the year, "The Tender Trap", to open on Wednesday.

New members of the board are Miss Sally Adams, editor of the Call Board, and Van Westover, president of the newly organized Backstage Club.

19 United States Lawmakers Listed As Free Voyagers

NEW YORK (AP)—Three senators and 16 representatives Monday were listed as free voyagers aboard government-owned Panama line steamships. Also named were six congressional staff employees.

Of the 25, only four were designated as traveling alone. The rest took wives or children or both. In all 14 children were listed as many as three for some congressmen. The wives and children paid a quarter of the regular rate.

Two of the senators were Democrats, one was a Republican. There were 10 GOP representatives and six Democratic House members.

The Panama Line, which serves the Canal Zone and Haiti with its three ships, said that in 1955 it spent $22,154 "for cost of steamship transportation furnished to members of Congress."

Normally, round trip fares between New York and the Canal Zone cost from $315 to $351, depending on accommodations. Similar fares to Haiti and return run from $261 and $279.

The whole matter came up when Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford, Conn., Courant and an official of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, protested, saying the public was entitled to know how its money was being spent.

President Eisenhower last Thursday told his news conference he knew of "no reason on earth" why the lists shouldn't be made public.

Monday, the Panama Line here released the list of congressional passengers from July, 1955, to last week. They included:

Sen. William C. Laird (D-WV), wife and daughter; Sen. W. Kerr Scott (D-NC).

J. Don Kerlin, senatorial committee attaché, and wife; Rep. John J. Rhodes (R-Ariz.), wife and three children.

John T. Ridgely, congressional staff member, and wife.

Rep. Frank C. Osmers Jr. (R-NJ), wife and son; Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-NY) and son.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ), wife, two children; Rep. Frank M. Clark (R-Penn.), wife, two children. Rep. Edmund P. Radwan (R-NY), wife, three children; Rep. Frank Thompson Jr. (D-NJ), wife, two children.

Robert E. O'Hara, senatorial staff member; Rep. Henry O. Talie (R-Iowa) and wife.

Rep. James A. Byrne (D-Pa) and wife; Rep. Edward A. Garmatz (D-Md) and wife; the late Rep. William T. Granahan (D-Pa) and wife; Frances Sull, congressional committee clerk; Rep. T. James Tumulty (D-NJ) and wife; Rep. William K. Van Pelt (R-Wis) and wife; Bernard J. Zincke, congressional staff member, and wife.

Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis) and wife; Rep. Dean P. Taylor (R-NY) and wife.

Rep. A. D. Baughart Jr. (R-Ohio) and wife; Rep. William E. McVey (R-Ill) and wife.

Robert McManus, congressional committee attaché.

All the trips were to the Canal Zone except Rep. Powell's. He and his son visited Haiti.

GOP 'Truth Squad' To Stop Tuesday

The Republican "Truth Squad" will stop in Lincoln Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Lincoln Municipal Airport, where it will meet members of the local Republican committee and hold a short press conference.

The Republican National Committee will be represented by Robert Kunzig.

Members of the "Truth Squad" are: Sen. Frederick G. Payne of Maine, member of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee and of the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee; Rep. Clifford G. McIntire of Maine, member of the House Agriculture Committee; Sen. Carl Curtis of Nebraska, member of the Senate Postoffice and Civil Service Committee and the Committee on Rules and Regulations.

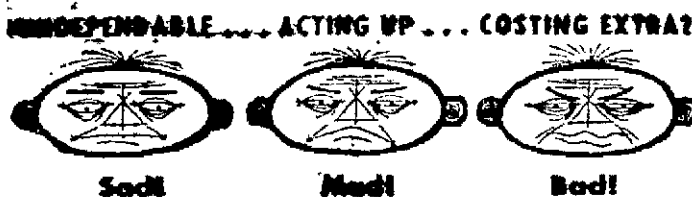

The "Truth Squad" plane will remain here only long enough for refueling.

More Wine

PARIS (AP)—The French are taking more to soft drinks, but they're also taking more wine than ever before.

An official report said the only bottle the French are hitting less frequently is the hard stuff. Apeitif and other higher alcoholic drink consumption is down, but no figures were given.

Unicam Candidates Meet Voters

Candidates for the State Legislature from Lincoln spoke before a meeting at the YWCA sponsored by the League of Women

for the 20th; C. V. Keller, candidate for the 19th District, and Otto H. Liebers, incumbent in the 18th District running for reelection. (Star Staff Photo.)

40 ATTEND LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATES' DISCUSSION

By MARGARET DVORAK
Star Staff Writer

About 40 Lincoln voters took the opportunity to get better acquainted with their state legislative candidates at an open forum Monday night, sponsored by the League of Women Voters, the Public Affairs Committee of the YWCA, and the United Church Women.

Briefly outlining their qualifications and their stands on such various issues as education, public health, conservation and taxation were Otto Liebers, incumbent from the 18th District; Fred M. Waggoner and Fern Hubbard Orme, 20th District; C. V. Keller and Stanley Portschke, 19th District.

Mrs. Donald W. Gerhard, chairman of the Public Affairs Committee of the YWCA, introduced the candidates.

Liebers on Taxes

Liebers, with experience as chairman of the Legislative Council Committee on Taxation, dwelt on the "bass need" of the state under any type of tax system—the overhauling of the entire tax structure, "to put authority into our tax laws and make it possible for the assessors to do a good job."

Keller advocated the placing of state employees—the "orphan" group—under civil service, and emphasized the need for improved efficiency and economy in operation of the Board of Control and the institutions under its direction. "A lot of criticism has been made of them; much of it is justified," he said.

Portschke, who as a Junior Chamber of Commerce member has worked for the encouragement of youth activities, cited his interest in the problem of juvenile delinquency, which, he said, is peculiar to the eastern, more populous part of the state.

Soil Conservation

Conservation of natural resources and the soil should be a primary consideration in this agricultural area, Waggoner said. "Perhaps with my farm upbringing, I am more cognizant of this urgent problem than some others might be," he said.

"Education cannot be stressed too much," was the comment of Mrs. Orme, who told the audience of her efforts in the instituting of a retirement system for public school employees and the improvement of the revenue system in the Lincoln schools. She also indicated her interest in an advanced driver training project.

A question and answer session followed the ten minute speeches of each candidate.

4 Plead Innocent On Contributing To Delinquency

Four Lancaster District Court defendants pleaded innocent to charges of contributing to the delinquency of minor children and their misdemeanor appeal cases were set for jury trial.

They are Clyde Logan, 27, of 2537 No. 12th; Mrs. Fern Oelling, 28, of 100 West P; Fred Egger, 64, of 100 West P and Mrs. Oelling's father, and Harry Bundy, 42, of 100 West P.

The four defendants, who appealed from County Court, are charged in connection with an April 15 incident involving four minor children at 2537 No. 12th.

Contributing charges were filed after authorities allegedly found the Logan children in a "neglected condition" and "excessive drinking in the three-room house."

A fifth defendant has dismissed his appeal. He is Lyle Collier, 21, of 6742 platte, who was fined $50 in County Court.

Mrs. Laura Yates, Lincoln Resident 54 Years, Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. Laura Yates, 76, of 2718 No. 49th, who died Sunday, will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Hodgman-Splain.

The Rev. Merlin Dana will officiate. Burial will be in Lincoln Memorial Park.

Mrs. Yates was born in Panama and had lived in Lincoln since 1902. She was a member of Haven Christian Church.

Surviving are a niece, Mrs. Juan Myers of Grand Island; nephews, Vern Tout of Lincoln, and Warren Tout of Los Angeles.

Belmont School Icebox 'Raided' By Intruders

Intruders "raided" the icebox at Belmont School, 3225 No. 14th, over the weekend.

Police said about 10 pints of milk, numerous sandwiches, cookies, apples and wieners were taken from the school's refrigerator.

Entrance was gained, police said, after the pins of a trap door on the roof were pried out. Intruders used a rope in reaching the roof.

Joe Simpa, school principal, told police that nothing else was missing.

19 United States Lawmakers Listed As Free Voyagers

NEW YORK (AP)—Three senators and 16 representatives Monday were listed as free voyagers aboard government-owned Panama line steamships. Also named were six congressional staff employees.

Of the 25, only four were designated as traveling alone. The rest took wives or children or both. In all 14 children were listed, as many as three for some congressmen. The wives and children paid a quarter of the regular rate.

Two of the senators were Democrats, one was a Republican. There were 10 GOP representatives and six Democratic House members.

The Panama Line, which serves the Canal Zone and Haiti with its three ships, said that in 1955 it spent $22,154 "for cost of steamship transportation furnished to members of Congress."

Normally, round trip fares between New York and the Canal Zone cost from $315 to $351, depending on accommodations. Similar fares to Haiti and return run from $261 and $279.

The whole matter came up when Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford, Conn., Courant and an official of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, protested secrecy surrounding the travel lists.

He said the public was entitled to know how its money was being spent.

President Eisenhower last Thursday told his news conference he knew of "no reason on earth" why the lists shouldn't be made public.

Monday, the Panama Line here released the list of congressional passengers from July, 1955, to last week. They included:

Sen. William C. Laird (D-WV), wife and daughter; Sen. W. Kerr Scott (D-NC).

J. Don Kerlin, senatorial committee attaché, and wife; Rep. John J. Rhodes (R-Ariz), wife and three children.

John T. Ridgely, congressional staff member, and wife.

Rep. Frank C. Osmers Jr. (R-NJ), wife and son; Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-NY) and son.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ), wife, two children; Rep. Frank M. Clark (R-Penn), wife, two children; Rep. Edmund P. Radwan (R-NY), wife, three children; Rep. Frank Thompson Jr. (D-NJ), wife, two children.

Robert E. O'Hara, senatorial staff member; Rep. Henry O. Talle (R-Iowa) and wife.

Rep. James A. Byrne (D-Pa) and wife; Rep. Edward A. Garmatz (D-Md) and wife; the late Rep. William T. Granahan (D-Pa) and wife; Frances Still, congressional committee clerk; Rep. T. James Tumulty (D-NJ) and wife; Rep. William K. Van Pelt (R-Wis) and wife; Bernard J. Zincke, congressional staff member, and wife.

Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis) and wife; Rep. Dean P. Taylor (R-NY) and wife.

Rep. A. D. Baumhart Jr. (R-Ohio) and wife; Rep. William E. McVey (R-Ill) and wife.

Robert McManus, congressional committee attaché.

All the trips were to the Canal Zone except Rep. Powell's. He and his son visited Haiti.

Unicam Candidates Meet Voters

Candidates for the State Legislature from Lincoln spoke before a meeting at the YWCA sponsored by the League of Women

for the 20th; C. V. Keller, candidate for the 19th District, and Otto H. Liebers, incumbent in the 18th District running for reelection. (Star Staff Photo.)

40 ATTEND LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATES' DISCUSSION

By MARGARET DVORAK
Star Staff Writer

About 40 Lincoln voters took the opportunity to get better acquainted with their state legislative candidates at an open forum Monday night, sponsored by the League of Women Voters, the Public Affairs Committee of the YWCA, and the United Church Women.

Briefly outlining their qualifications and their stands on such various issues as education, public health, conservation and taxation were: Otto Liebers, incumbent from the 18th District; Fred M. Waggoner and Fern Hubbard Orme, 20th District; C. V. Keller and Stanley Portsche, 19th District.

Mrs. Donald W. Gerhard, chairman of the Public Affairs Committee of the YWCA, introduced the candidates.

Liebers on Taxes

Liebers, with experience as chairman of the Legislative Council Committee on Taxation, dwelt on the "basis need" of the state under any type of tax system—the overhauling of the entire tax structure, "to put authority into our tax laws and make it possible for the assessors to do a good job."

Keller advocated the placing of state employees—the "orphan" group—under civil service, and emphasized the need for improved efficiency and economy in operation of the Board of Control and the institutions under its direction. "A lot of criticism has been made of them; much of it is justified," he said.

Portsche, who as a Junior Chamber of Commerce member has worked for the encouragement of youth activities, cited his interest in the problem of juvenile delinquency, which, he said, is peculiar to the eastern, more populous part of the state.

Soil Conservation

Conservation of natural resources and the soil should be a primary consideration in this agricultural area, Waggoner said. "Perhaps with my farm upbringing, I am more cognizant of this urgent problem than some others might be," he said.

"Education cannot be stressed too much," was the comment of Mrs. Orme, who told the audience of her efforts in the instituting of a retirement system for public school employees and the improvement of the revenue system in the Lincoln schools. She also indicated her interest in an advanced driver-training project.

In order to be fair shake up the names in a hat. But don't go back for the hat.

If the building lights up after you have voted it means you have tilted the booth.

So you have to vote all over again. They do that anyway in my old home town. Can you vote for a Republican president and a Democratic vice-president? If you think you can, write the ticket and get a half-a-dozen in a Chinese laundry.

If you have decided on a choice just mark the ballot with an X. They don't want your weight or your finger-prints this time.

Having voted you have done your duty as a free-born, untrammeled and right-thinking citizen.

There's nothing to do after that but wait for the saloons to open.

'Has Public Support'

Louisiana OKs Sports Segregation Law

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Louisiana put its new sports segregation into effect Monday and a backer of the act predicted the people themselves would make sure it was enforced.

The law makes it illegal for white and Negro amateur and professional players to compete in the same "athletic training, games, sports or contests." Separate seating for spectators also is required under the act, which carries a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and one-year imprisonment.

Sen. W. M. Rainach of Sumnerfield, chairman of the legislative committee on segregation which drafted the act, said "this law has probably the strongest public support of any segregation measure enacted by the Louisiana legislature."

Rainach said he looked for any violations to be "called to the attention of the proper authorities by the people themselves. I don't think our committee will have to worry about enforcement."

"I am not anticipating any trouble at all because the people of this state are firm in their determination and they are becoming rapidly organized and strong in their position to maintain segregation."

Rainach also is president of the Louisiana Assn. of Citizens Councils. The citizens councils are dedicated to preserving segregation.

The bill, passed by the May session of the legislature, was signed by Gov. Earl Long July 17.

The law did not go into effect until Monday because of a possibility, when the bill was being discussed, that Shreveport might get into the Texas League playoffs. It turned out the precaution was unnecessary. Shreveport finished seventh.

Long, who couldn't be reached for comments Monday, previously said he was neutral on the question. However, he said once that he thought the law eventually would wind up in court.

Rainach apparently doesn't expect any trouble there.

"With the rising tempo of public opinion on this issue, I doubt the wisdom and effectiveness of a court test," Rainach said.

A. P. Tureaud, lawyer for the Nation Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said he didn't know of any plans for contesting the law.

Paul DeBlanc, president of the Mid-Winter Sports Assn. which sponsors the Sugar Bowl, had no comment.

The Sugar Bowl, several universities in the state, and the Louisiana Invitational Basketball Tournament at Shreveport already have felt the effects of the bill. Some schools cancelled contracts because of Negroes on their squads. Others said they were voiding contracts on grounds of principle.

The University of Wisconsin acted first. It cancelled a 1957-58 home-and-home agreement for football games with Louisiana State.

Seven schools called off basketball games scheduled for the upcoming season. Notre Dame, Dayton and St. Louis dropped out of the Sugar Bowl tourney.

Under the new law white and Negro boxers will not even be able to work out against each other, a not uncommon practice here.

Yanks Sell Cerv To Athletics

NEW YORK (AP)—The world champion New York Yankees Monday sold outfielder Bob Cerv to the Kansas City Athletics and relief pitcher John (Sonny) Dixon and outfielder George Wilson to their Denver farm in the American Assn.

The club also bought three right-handed pitchers from Denver and third baseman Dick Sanders from Birmingham, their Eastern League club.

Cerv was sent to the A's in a straight cash deal, the Yankees said, and not as part of the August transaction in which outfielder Enos Slaughter returned to New York. The money involved was not disclosed.

Cerv starred with basketball and baseball teams at the University of Nebraska before joining the Yankee organization.

Cerv, 30, batted .304 this season for the Yankees and was 1 for 1 as a pinch hitter in the World Series. He had only 115 at bats during the season after being benched by injury when he ran into a wall at Detroit, but he had 25 runs batted in with 3 homers and 6 triples.

The young pitchers purchased by the Yankees are Mark Freeman, 25; Jack Urban, 27, and Jim DePallo, 24. Freeman, who was at the Yankee rookie school last season, was 10-14 with Denver, striking out 154. Urban had an 11-6 record. DePallo was 13-5, appearing in 47 games, all in relief.

Signed By Greenwade

Sanders, 25, was the Eastern League's Most Valuable Player. The youngster, originally signed by scout Tom Greenwade, who also signed Mickey Mantle, hit .305 for Birmingham, missing the Eastern League bat crown by .0004. He also was runnerup with 20 home runs, and led the league with 94 RBIs, 14 triples, 101 runs and 266 total bases. He bats right-handed.

Nebraska Offense 'Better'

Defense Lacking In Defeat By Wildcats

By DON BRYANT

Sports Editor, The Star
Coach Pete Elliott gave his Nebraska Cornhuskers a day off Monday, substituting skill sessions for the usual practice routine.

The coaching staff reviewed movies of the 10-7 loss to Kansas State with each position group.

Practice will resume Tuesday and Elliott said he doesn't plan any more scrimmage than normal this week in preparation for Indiana.

"We'll do about the same things as we have done in the past," he said. "We might gain something by a lot of scrimmage, but we also might get banged up a lot more, too."

There were no lineup changes announced Monday, but Elliott said some might be made Tuesday after further study of movies.

On the subject of the Kansas State game, Pete said:

"I feel the movies show that we played better offensively against Kansas State than we did against Iowa State, but we were not as good defensively."

"But how well you play also depends on how well the opposition plays. The offense may be better, but you still have to score. We played better, but not good enough."

Standouts

After reviewing the movies, Elliott said Linemen Don Kampe, Bob Berguin, Jim Murphy and Jack Fleming did outstanding jobs.

Backs who drew praise from the Husker coach were Larry Naviaux ("fine job defensively and offensively"), Jerry Brown ("really runs hard every game") and George Harshman ("particularly good job in a couple of drives and passed well.")

Elliott also said that he "was fairly satisfied the boys are in good physical shape."

Full Strength

The Cornhuskers are expected to have everybody who played against Kansas State ready for full duty against Indiana Saturday.

Max Kitzelman, alternate center, "should be 100 per cent ready," while Guard LaVerne Torzcon (ankle sprain) and Center Bob Berguin (knee twist) "should be all right."

Indiana Preview

Elliott said the scout report on Indiana, prepared by Frosh Coach Gene Stauber, indicates the Hoosiers have "good power."

"It's one of the biggest teams I've ever seen," Pete said. "Indiana got beat badly by Michigan State, but in the Big Ten you can get a real good team and still get beat."

Frosh Loss

Elliott reported Monday that Skip Smith, Torrance, Calif., freshman, has left school here and will enroll at UCLA.

The promising halfback prospect told Husker officials that he was "homesick." Carlos Skaggs, also from Torrance, checked out with Smith.

Another frosh, Center Jerry Gilbert of Lincoln, has been advised by doctors to give up the game because of a physical condition.

Band Day

Highlight of the Indiana game at Memorial Stadium Saturday will be the annual Band Day festivities.

Some 1,500 bleacher seats are still available for the colorful event.

Crete Lead Shaky In Class B Ratings

By RON GIBSON

Star Sports Staff Writer
Crete's lead in The Star's Class B high school football ratings, looks a little less sturdy today than it did a week ago.

Crete was tied 6-6 by Fairbury, a Class A team, last week but hangs on to the top spot. The Cardinals have a 4-0-1 record, including two wins and a tie against Class A foes. There were few changes in the Class B rankings from last week and the Class C chart was almost pat. The fields stack up this way:

Class B

Crete still looks like the best but Ogallala is tough too. Ogallala climbed from third to second and could go to the top with a win over Class A Sidney next week, should Crete slip.

Bellevue, idle last week, is third ahead of Pierce. Plainview climbed from sixth to fifth by shellingacking a fair Creighton team as Holdrege, last week's fifth club, was upset by Broken Bow.

Broken Bow appears in the ratings for the first time in sixth place, a short jump ahead of the seventh, eighth and ninth place teams. Cozad, held to a tie by Gothenburg, is seventh and Holdrege is eighth ahead of Central City.

West Point, playing a light Class B schedule, is 10th. Many clubs could crack the race wide open. Gothenburg could get in along with Chadron, Tecumseh, Schuyler, York and Gordon.

There were two casualties among the rated B clubs last week. Omaha Holy Name dropped out after a loss to Pius X, still a contender. Minatare, the 10th club, was a 33-0 victim of Class C Oshkosh.

Class C

With the season little more than half over, it begins to look more and more like the Nov. 9 game between Oshkosh and Grant will decide the Class C championship.

Grant laced Wauneta 32-7 last week while Oshkosh was beating a previously undefeated Minatare club 33-0. Oshkosh, third in the ratings last week, is now second. St. Paul dropped one notch from second to third.

That was the only change as rated clubs continued to look good. St. Paul blanked Stormsboro, 12-0, to remain unbeaten. Arcadia stretched its string of victories to 17 and its skein of games without yielding a score to 13 by blanking Callaway 33-0.

Arnold, unscored on this season, beat Taylor 14-0 to remain in fifth. The Knights of David City St. Mary's put a feather in their cap by beating Class B Columbus St. Bonaventure 19-12.

Morrill clipped Kimball and Alma clipped a fair Cambridge team 7-0. Deshler got by Sutton 12-7.

Loup City, Ewing and Stuart are among the best of the rest. The records and remaining

Spartans Pressing Sooners

Oklahoma Retains Top Ranking In Close Race

The Associated Press
Oklahoma retained its No. 1 rating in college football Monday but by a margin so slim as to make the Sooners ask what they have to do to stay on top.

The Oklahoma team has done everything asked of it—won three games this season against North Carolina, Kansas State and Texas without yielding a point; ran its winning streak to 33 straight, 54 without a loss in the Big Seven, and 109 straight scoring games. Yet the voters in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters gave the Sooners a bare 25-point margin over Michigan State.

Those two teams virtually monopolized this week's ranking poll. Between them they drew 111 of 131 votes for first place, with Oklahoma holding a 67-44 edge in that tabulation. On the total scoring, with points awarded on the basis of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, and down to 1 for 10th, it was 1,173 points for Oklahoma and 1,148 for Michigan State's Spartans.

Swing Toward Spartans
This showed a decided swing toward Michigan State since last week, when the Sooners held a 120-point bulge with 76 firsts to the Spartans' 32. The schedule probably explains it in part. While Oklahoma was rolling over a weak Texas team 45-0, Michigan State followed its victory over Michigan with a 53-6 trouncing of Indiana, no great shakes in the Big Ten this year but still a fairly rugged opponent.

There was only one major change in the first ten rankings, and this also reflected the voters' high opinion of Big Ten football. Michigan, which dropped to 12th after losing to Michigan State, bounced back into eighth spot after its 48-14 rout of Army. Texas A&M held to a 14-14 tie by Houston, slipped from ninth place to 14th.

Mississippi and Tennessee switched places on a close ballot, Ole Miss going up to sixth, and Southern California, idle last week-end, dropped a notch to ninth place.

A lot of familiar names disappeared from the ballots as the experts finally were convinced that teams like Notre Dame, Army and Navy don't have it this year. In their places, Iowa, Syracuse and Clemson began to show, along with a few others, but not enough to place in the first ten.

The top 10 teams, with first place votes and win-loss records in parentheses (points based on 10 for first, 9-8-7, etc.):

1. Oklahoma (7) (5-0).....173
2. Michigan State (5) (3-0).....148
3. Georgia Tech (5) (3-0).....144
4. Texas Christian (2) (3-0).....121
5. Ohio State (3-0).....121
6. Mississippi (7) (4-0).....121
7. Tennessee (3) (3-0).....121
8. Michigan (2-1).....121
9. Southern California (3-0).....121
10. Baylor (4-0).....121

Martinez TKOs Nocero In 7th

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Sharp-shooting Vince Martinez, Paterson, N.J., exploded with a barrage of lefts and rights in the seventh round Monday night to score a technical knockout over Rinzi Nocero, Brooklyn, N. Y., in a scheduled 10-round bout at Rhode Island Arena.

Martinez, the NBA's fourth ranked welterweight contender, weighed 153½, Nocero 158½.

Nocero, both his eyes swollen from Martinez' accurate jabs, was floored at 2:04 of the seventh by a hard right cross. Referee Ben Maculan waived him out without a count.

It was Martinez' first match since Boston's Tony DeMarco, the No. 1 welter contender, broke his 21-fight win streak with a unanimous decision last June.

Nocero started fast with a flurry of looping rights which were shaken off by his ringwise opponent.

Martinez took control in the fourth when he began connecting with stinging left jabs and sharp rights.

In a preliminary battle Solomon McTier, 20½, the 1955 amateur heavyweight champ from Montgomery Ala., won in his pro debut with a second round knockout over Dennis McCann, 18½, of Hartford, Conn., in a scheduled 4-rounder.

Schmidt Wins But Bunyan Impresses

Hans Schmidt scored a two-fall-out-of-three victory over Woody Strode in the feature event at the Fairgrounds Arena rattle Monday night, but the methodical German had to take a back seat to another husky as far as fans were concerned.

Paul Bunyan, 8-foot 2-inch, 440-pound giant, displayed exceptional agility in beating Bozo Brown in one fall in a preliminary bout. He was the talk of the crowd of 750.

Promoter Tom Novak said after the festivities that Bunyan will be back—next week. His opponent will be Duke Demet, and Tom promised that the big guy would "walk the town."

Bunyan was a striking figure as he walked about Lincoln Monday. He was impressive in his first Fairgrounds appearance, too. He took only ten minutes to beat Brown.

Schmidt, after breaking even with Woody Strode in two falls, won an unpopular decision with his famous back-breaker hold.

In a prelim bout, Howard Pierce won the first and third falls to beat Seymour Koenig of New York.

Like Names Olympic Representatives

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Monday named three former Olympic champions to be his personal representatives at the Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 22-Dec. 8.

The former champions named are Robert B. Mathias of Los Angeles; Dr. Sammy Lee of Santana, Calif.; and Jesse Owens of Chicago. Also named to represent the President was Daniel J. Ferris of New York, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Sooners Step Up The Pace

Oklahoma, third nationally last week in total offense, stepped up its pace in the 45-0 romp over Texas, Big Seven Conference statistics show.

In posting their third straight shut-out of the season, the Sooners rolled up 502 yards against the Longhorns—369 on the ground—to run their total offense figure to 1,429 yards, an average of 476.3.

O. U., the top-ranked team in the nation in all the polls, continues to show versatility, as well as steady power. Coach Bud Wilkinson's red-shirted crew now has scored 147 points in blanking North Carolina, Kansas State, and Texas. This week the Sooners take on Kansas at Lawrence.

Clendon Thomas and Tommy McDonald are scrambling for honors as the most dangerous Sooner back. At the moment, despite McDonald's brilliant display at Dallas, Thomas holds the statistical edge.

Thomas, who scored 13 times for 123 yards against Texas, takes over from Homer Floyd of Kansas as the No. 1 rusher. Thomas has a total of 262 yards on 27 carries for a 9.7 average. Floyd is second with 50 for 257 and a 5.1 average. McDonald is fourth with 31 for 238.

Thomas also widened his lead in the scoring department. He now has tallied 7 touchdowns for 42 points, followed by Floyd and McDonald, each with 30.

Jimmy Hunter and Charley James of Missouri held on to their honors as the leading passer and pass receiver, respectively. Hunter has connected with 15 of 29 pitches for 163 yards. James has caught 11 for 130 yards.

Wally Strauch of Kansas jumped to second in passing with 6 of 13 for 131, and Jimmy Harris of Oklahoma is next with a perfect 5 for 5 record for 100 yards.

Howard Cook of Colorado stayed put as the leading punter with 3 for 181 yards, an average of 60.3. Last week he had a 65.5 average.

KENTUCKY BOURBON AT ITS BEST

THE HILL & HILL COMPANY, DIVISION OF NATIONAL DISTILLERS
LOUISVILLE, KY.—KENTUCKY STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY, 86 PROOF

'Has Public Support' Louisiana OKs Sports Segregation Law

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Louisiana put its new sports segregation into effect Monday and a backer of the act predicted the people themselves would make sure it was enforced.

The law makes it illegal for white and Negro amateur and professional players to compete in the same "athletic training, games, sports or contests." Separate seating for spectators also is required under the act, which carries a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and one-year imprisonment.

Sen. W. M. Rainach of Summerfield, chairman of the legislative committee on segregation which drafted the act, said "this law has probably the strongest public support of any segregation measure enacted by the Louisiana legislature."

Rainach said he looked for any violations to be "called to the attention of the proper authorities by the people themselves. I don't think our committee will have to worry about enforcement."

No Trouble Anticipated
"I am not anticipating any trouble at all because the people of this state are firm in their determination and they are becoming rapidly organized and strong in their position to maintain segregation."

Rainach also is president of the Louisiana Assn. of Citizens Councils. The citizens councils are dedicated to preserving segregation.

The bill, passed by the May session of the legislature, was signed by Gov. Earl Long July 17.

The law did not go into effect until Monday because of a possibility, when the bill was being discussed, that Shreveport might get into the Texas League playoffs. It turned out the precaution was unnecessary. Shreveport finished seventh.

Long, who couldn't be reached for comments Monday, previously said he was neutral on the question. However, he said once that he thought the law eventually would wind up in court.

Rainach apparently doesn't expect any trouble there.

"With the rising tempo of public opinion on this issue, I doubt the wisdom and effectiveness of a court test," Rainach said.

A. P. Tureaud, lawyer for the Nation Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said he didn't know of any plans for contesting the law.

Paul DeBlanc, president of the Mid-Winter Sports Assn. which sponsors the Sugar Bowl, had no comment.

The Sugar Bowl, several universities in the state, and the Louisiana Invitational Basketball Tournament at Shreveport already have felt the effects of the bill. Some schools cancelled contracts because of Negroes on their squads. Others said they were voiding contracts on grounds of principle.

The University of Wisconsin acted first. It cancelled a 1957-58 home - and - home agreement for football games with Louisiana State.

Seven schools called off basketball games scheduled for the upcoming season. Notre Dame, Dayton and St. Louis dropped out of the Sugar Bowl tourney.

Under the new law white and Negro boxers will not even be able to work out against each other, a not uncommon practice here.

Yanks Sell Cerv To Athletics

NEW YORK (AP)—The world champion New York Yankees Monday sold outfielder Bob Cerv to the Kansas City Athletics and relief pitcher John (Sonny) Dixon and outfielder George Wilson to their Denver farm in the American Assn.

The club also bought three right-handed pitchers from Denver and third baseman Dick Sanders from Binghamton, their Eastern League club.

Cerv was sent to the A's in a straight cash deal, the Yankees said, and not as part of the August transaction in which outfielder Enos Slaughter returned to New York. The money involved was not disclosed.

Cerv starred with basketball and baseball teams at the University of Nebraska before joining the Yankee organization.

Cerv, 30, batted .304 this season for the Yankees and was 1 for 1 as a pinch hitter in the World Series. He had only 115 at bats during the season after being benched by injury when he ran into a wall at Detroit, but he had 25 runs batted in with 3 homers and 6 triples.

The young pitchers purchased by the Yankees are Mark

Freeman, 25; Jack Urban, 27, and Jim DePalo, 24. Freeman, who was at the Yankee rookie school last season, was 10-14 with Denver, striking out 154. Urban had an 11-8 record. DePalo was 13-5, appearing in 47 games, all in relief.

Signed By Greenwade

Sanders, 25, was the Eastern League's Most Valuable Player. The youngster, originally signed by scout Tom Greenwade, who also signed Mickey Mantle, hit .305 for Binghamton, missing the Eastern League bat crown by .0004. He also was runnerup with 20 home runs, and led the league with 94 RBIs, 14 triples, 101 runs and 266 total bases. He bats right-handed.

Nebraska Offense 'Better'

Defense Lacking In Defeat By Wildcats

By DON BRYANT

Sports Editor, The Star

Coach Pete Elliott gave his Nebraska Cornhuskers a day off Monday, substituting skill sessions for the usual practice routine.

The coaching staff reviewed movies of the 10-7 loss to Kansas State with each position group.

Practice will resume Tuesday and Elliott said he doesn't plan any more scrimmage than normal this week in preparation for Indiana.

"We'll do about the same things as we have done in the past," he said. "We might gain something by a lot of scrimmage, but we also might get banged up a lot more, too."

There were no lineup changes announced Monday, but Elliott said some might be made Tuesday after further study of movies.

On the subject of the Kansas State game, Pete said:

"I feel the movies show that we played better offensively against Kansas State than we did against Iowa State, but we were not as good defensively."

"But how well you play also depends on how well the opposition plays. The offense may be better, but you still have to score. We played better, but not good enough."

Standouts

After reviewing the movies, Elliott said Linemen Don Kampe, Bob Berguin, Jim Murphy and Jack Fleming did outstanding jobs.

Backs who drew praise from the Husker coach were Larry Navi-aux ("fine job defensively and offensively"), Jerry Brown ("really runs hard every game") and George Harshman ("particularly good job in a couple of drives and passed well").

Elliott also said that he "was fairly satisfied the boys are in good physical shape."

Full Strength

The Cornhuskers are expected to have everybody who played against Kansas State ready for full duty against Indiana Saturday.

Max Kitzelman, alternate center, "should be 100 per cent ready," while Guard LaVerne Torcoron (ankle sprain) and Center Bob Berguin (knee twist) "should be all right."

Indiana Preview

Elliott said the scout report on Indiana, prepared by Frosh Coach Gene Stauber, indicates the Hoosiers have "good power."

It's one of the biggest teams I've ever seen," Pete said. "Indiana got beat badly by Michigan State, but in the Big Ten you can have a real good team and still get beat."

Frosh Loss

Elliott reported Monday that Skip Smith, Torrance, Calif., freshman, has left school here and will enroll at UCLA.

The promising halfback prospect told Husker officials that he was "homesick." Carlos Skaggs, also from Torrance, checked out with Smith.

Another frosh, Center Jerry Gilbert of Lincoln, has been advised by doctors to give up the game because of a physical condition.

Band Day

Highlight of the Indiana game at Memorial Stadium Saturday will be the annual Band Day festivities.

Some 1,500 bleacher seats are still available for the colorful event.

of the factors Coach Jerry Bush is hoping will help the Nebraska basketball team this year. Ron Parsons (left) is a 6-8 sophomore from Cleveland, O., and Terry

Howard is a 6-7 junior from Elkhorn. This horseplay for the photographers took place Monday during the Huskers first cage practice of the year.

Crete Lead Shaky In Class B Ratings

By RON GIBSON

Star Sports Staff Writer
Crete's lead in The Star's Class B high school football ratings, looks a little less sturdy today than it did a week ago.

Crete was tied 6-6 by Fairbury, a Class A team, last week but hangs on to the top spot. The Cardinals have a 4-0-1 record, including two wins and a tie against Class A foes.

There were few changes in the Class B rankings from last week and the Class C chart was almost pat. The fields stack up this way:

Class B

Crete still looks like the best but Ogallala is tough too. Ogallala climbed from third to second and could go to the top with a win over Class A Sidney next week, should Crete slip.

Bellevue, idle last week, is third ahead of Pierce. Plainview climbed from sixth to fifth by shellacking a fair Creighton team as Holdrege, last week's fifth club, was upset by Broken Bow.

Broken Bow appears in the ratings for the first time in sixth place, a short jump ahead of the seventh, eighth and ninth place teams. Cozad, held to a tie by Gothenburg, is seventh and Holdrege is eighth ahead of Central City.

West Point, playing a light Class B schedule, is 10th. Many clubs could crack the race wide open. Gothenburg could get in along with Chardron, Tecumseh, Schuyler, York and Gordon.

Fetchick Wins Golf Playoff

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Husky Mike Fetchick captured the biggest prize of his 6-year pro golfing career Monday when he fired a six-under-par 66 to win a four-way playoff in the Western Open Golf Tournament.

Fetchick finished five strokes ahead of Jay Hebert from Sanford, Fla., who had a 71, and six ahead of former PGA champ Doug Ford, who wound up at par 72. Youthful Don January blew his chances early by going five over par after only six holes. The best he could do was a 75 over the hilly Presidio course.

The three finishing behind Fetchick each received checks for $2,000.

The long-biting winner collected a belated birthday present of $5,000. He turned 34 last Saturday. The first-prize check was a bigger plum than his entire 1955 winnings of $4,009.

It's Little Wilt Now

LAWRENCE, Kan. (INS)—Wilton N. Chamberlain, a sophomore in the college of Liberal Arts and Sciences from Philadelphia, has been nominated by his dormitory as "Little Man on Campus" at Kansas University.

Chamberlain, known as "Wilt The Stilt," is a 7-foot basketball

Spartans Pressing Sooners

Oklahoma Retains Top Ranking In Close Race

The Associated Press

Oklahoma retained its No. 1 rating in college football Monday but by a margin so slim as to make the Sooners ask what they have to do to stay on top.

The Oklahoma team has done everything asked of it — won three games this season against North Carolina, Kansas State and Texas without yielding a point; ran its winning streak to 33 straight, 54 without a loss in the Big Seven, and 109 straight scoring games. Yet the voters in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters gave the Sooners a bare 25-point margin over Michigan State.

Those two teams virtually monopolized this week's ranking poll. Between them they drew 111 of 131 votes for first place, with Oklahoma holding a 67-44 edge in that tabulation. On the total scoring, with points awarded on the basis of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, and down to 1 for 10th, it was 1,173 points for Oklahoma and 1,148 for Michigan State's Spartans.

Swing Toward Spartans

This showed a decided swing toward Michigan State since last week, when the Sooners held a 120-point bulge with 76 firsts to the Spartans' 32. The schedule probably explains it in part. While Oklahoma was rolling over a weak Texas team 45-0, Michigan State followed its victory over Michigan with a 53-6 trouncing of Indiana, no great shakes in the Big Ten this year but still a fairly rugged opponent.

There was only one major change in the first ten rankings, and this also reflected the voters' high opinion of Big Ten football. Michigan, which dropped to 12th after losing to Michigan State, bounced back into eighth spot after its 48-14 rout of Army. Texas A&M held to a 14-14 tie by Houston, slipped from ninth place to 14th.

Mississippi and Tennessee switched places on a close ballot, Ole Miss going up to sixth, and Southern California, idle last week-end, dropped a notch to ninth place.

A lot of familiar names disappeared from the ballots as the experts finally were convinced that teams like Notre Dame, Army and Navy don't have it this year. In their places, Iowa, Syracuse and Clemson began to show, along with a few others, but not enough to place in the first ten.

The top 10 teams with first place votes and win-loss records in parentheses (points based on 10 for first, 9 for 2nd, etc.):

ERA Titles To Ford, Burdette

By BEN OLAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Whitey Ford, of the New York Yankees, who owns the majors' highest lifetime pitching percentage, has captured the American League earned-run championship for the first time.
Figures compiled by The Associated Press revealed Monday that Ford gave up only 62 earned runs in 226 innings for an ERA of 2.47. He edged Cleveland's Herb Score, another brilliant lefthander, who finished with a 2.57 mark.
Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee

Braves won the National League title in another tight competition. He beat out teammate Warren Spahn, who had the lowest earned-run average in 1956 and 1957.
In 236 frames, Burdette yielded 77 earned runs for a 2.71 ERA. Spahn, a 20-game winner, gave up 87 unearned runs in 281 innings for 2.79. Burdette wound up with a 19-10 won-lost mark.
Remarkable Record
Ford has put together a truly remarkable record in five big league seasons. The 27-year-old native of New York City, who divided two decisions in the recent World Series against Brooklyn, shows a lifetime mark of 80 victories against 28 defeats for a .741 percentage in 1956, winning 19 games and losing only 6 for .760. He is only the seventh pitcher in his circuit to win the earned-run and percentage titles in the same season. Lefty Grove of Philadelphia and Walter Johnson of Washington each did it four times and Stan Coveleskie of the Senators and Lefty Gomez, Spud Chandler and Ed Lopat of the Yankees had it once.

Score, the majors' strikeout leader with 263, permitted 71 earned runs in 249 innings while winning 20 games and dropping 9.

Behind Score came two other Cleveland mainstays. Early Wynn and Bob Lemon. Wynn finished with a 2.69 ERA on 83 earned runs in 278 innings while Lemon had 86 in 235 frames for a 3.04 mark. Both Wynn and Lemon also were 20-game winners.
Lary Was Fifth
Frank Lary of Detroit, outstanding in his sophomore year, was fifth in the earned run race with 3.06. He won his last eight starts, boosting his record to 21-13.

Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants, the 1954 National League earned-run leader, finished a close third this year. The durable southpaw who posted 20-13 record, had an ERA of 2.36.

Sal Maglie of Brooklyn, one of the leading candidates for comeback of the year honors, was fourth with 2.87. He was followed by Don Newcombe of the Dodgers, the majors' top winner with 27. Newk had an ERA of 3.09.
Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox, the American League pace-setter in 1955, finished eighth the past season with 3.33. Bob Friend, Pittsburgh ace, was 12th with a 3.50 mark after heading the National League in '55.
The leaders based on 154 innings or more:

Big Ten Heads Say Aid To Athletes Is Nearing 'Staggering Proportions'

CHICAGO (AP)—A critical self-appraisal of Western Conference athletics, charging that the work-ahead program for athletes is "an invitation to hypocrisy and deceit" was released Monday by the Big Ten in the form of a 24-page report.
It also found financial help to athletes has reached "staggering proportions."

Patterson, Moore Meet On Nov. 30

CHICAGO (AP)—Floyd Patterson and Archie Moore have agreed to meet in a 15-round heavyweight title fight in Chicago Stadium Friday, Nov. 30, the International Boxing Club announced Monday.
The contract signing will be in Chicago next week and terms will be announced at that time, the IBC said.
The ageless Moore was knocked out in the 11th round of his heavyweight title attempt by champion Rocky Marciano, now retired, in September of last year.
Patterson hasn't fought since last June 8 when he defeated Hurricane Jackson in 12 rounds. He fractured a hand in that fight, but has been working back into shape.
In New York, Jim Norris, president of the IBC, said negotiations on home television and theater television were going on now. The fact that Nov. 30 is a Friday, one of the two days a week in which the IBC broadcasts and telecasts network fights, indicated that the 15-rounder would be telecast into the nation's living rooms.
Norris said the fighters will split 60 per cent of the net receipts and television but he said the percentages each will receive had not yet been decided. He also said no decision has been reached yet on ticket prices.
Under the pact Moore and Patterson agreed to be in Chicago three weeks before the fight for the final phases of their training.
The IBC said both already have started training, Patterson at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., and Moore at Lakeside, Calif.

Few Geese, Ducks In Nebraska Yet

A game commission spokesman reported Monday that not many ducks and geese are in the Nebraska area yet, although several flights of geese have been seen.
Cold weather is needed to get the birds moving, he reported. Flights of birds are expected to increase between now and Oct. 25.

cial aid was drafted by a conference committee set up on Dec. 9, 1955, "to study the over-all problems and position on the conference in the conduct of intercollegiate athletics."

Secret Until Now
The report, secret until now, was sent to Big Ten presidents, athletic directors and faculty representatives.

It was mapped by Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. Wilson; Assistant Commissioner Bill Reed; H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, Michigan athletic director; Leslie W. Scott, Michigan State faculty representative; Verne C. Freeman, Purdue faculty representative, and Ivy Williamson, Wisconsin athletic director.
The report criticized the "offer system." It said "there is an underlying dilemma in the administration of financial assistance to athletes in the Big Ten."
"Each conference school," the report stated, "is on a definite 'offer' basis, meaning that the recruitment activity... is accomplished by the offer of financial assistance (promised work and/or scholarships)."
"The scope of financial subsidies to conference athletes, earned and unearned (scholarships), has increased in staggering proportions in the past decade."
"The literal requirements of the work-ahead rule that pay be for work performed, are being bent if not tortured, to accommodate a basis for offers of aid in fixed amounts."
The report also set forth:
"The work-ahead program has developed purposefully as a subsidization device under the 'offer system' and limitations upon unearned aid... as such it is an invitation to hypocrisy and deceit unless there is complete insistence upon full work for compensation received, and there is not."
Gloomy Picture Projected
If the present trends of recruiting and payment continue, the special committee projected a gloomy picture of Big Ten athletics 10 or 15 years from now.
Among other things, the report predicted the conference may well "form a functional arrangement in the nature of a farm system with professional sports"; that the distinction between intercollegiate and professional sports will disappear with public support shifting to the pros; that students will be "vigorously" recruited; that actual aid to the athlete will far exceed that which is necessary educational expense, and that:
"The formality of requiring that the athlete be a bona fide student will be met by special devices of admission, tutoring and curriculum counsel, all undermining the academic integrity of the conference members."

Athletics Purchase Phillies' Flowers

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics announced Monday purchase of relief pitcher Ben Flowers from the Philadelphia Phillies for "a sum slightly in excess" of the $10,000 waiver price.
Flowers, a 29-year-old right-hander, came through the Boston Red Sox farm system and was with the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Cardinals before being acquired by the Phils during the 1956 season.
With the Cardinals this year he appeared in 4 games, pitched 27 innings and had a 1-0 record. He went to the Phillies along with Harvey Haddix and Stu Miller in a trade for Murry Dickson and Herm Wehmeier on May 11.

Redskins Release Jerry Planutis

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Redskins Monday released Jerry Planutis, 26-year-old half-back who formerly starred at Michigan State. To take his place on the 33-man roster, they recalled Bill Fulcher, a guard and linebacker.
Planutis, picked by the Redskins in the seventh round of the National Football League draft for this season, had worked on both offense and defense but couldn't quite fit in Coach Joe Kuharich's backfield plans.
Fulcher is a 22-year-old, 190-pound resident of Augusta, Ga., and played at Georgia Tech.

Tokyo Giants Win

FUKUOKA, Japan (AP)—The Tokyo Giants kept Japan's World Series alive Monday with a five-run eighth inning outburst to win 12-7 over the Fukuoka's Lions. The Lions lead 3-2 in the best four out of seven series.

Swaps' Injury Treated Monday

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—A bone specialist was called in Monday to treat the injured Swaps after the California 4-year-old aggravated a leg injured during a workout last Tuesday at Garden State Park.
Swaps broke the cast off his left hind leg Sunday in his stall, it was reported, and Dr. J. Krall, a bone specialist from the University of Pennsylvania Veterinary Hospital, was called in to place a special noncorrosive cast on the leg.
During a workout last week Swaps pulled up suddenly and X-ray pictures disclosed two linear fractures of the cannon bone.
The colt, owned by Rex C. Ellsworth and John W. Galbreath, cannot be moved from his stall for a month. It is planned to send him to Ellsworth's farm at Chino, Calif., when he can travel.

You, the New Mexico quarterback, discover early in the Arizona game your opponents are taking advantage of this and throttling the inside threat of your hard ploughing fullback and strong running right half by concentrating their defense.

Rate these plays, 1, 2, 3 and 4:

Off tackle slant by right half.

Sugar Hart Halts Dennis In Third

NEW YORK (AP)—Garnett "Sugar" Hart, a smooth and hard-hitting welterweight prospect from Philadelphia, Monday night racked up his ninth consecutive victory by stopping Earl Dennis in three rounds of a bout at St. Nicholas Arena. Hart weighed 146, Dennis 143 1/2.
Dr. Alexander Schiff examined Dennis, a New Yorker, after the third round ended with Earl on the deck. He then ordered Referee Teddy Martin to stop the scrap. It went into the book as a third round technical knockout as the bell had not rung for the start of the fourth.

Hart, a slender 21-year-old with fast hands and a solid wallop, staggered his 24-year-old rival twice in the torrid third and dropped him with a short right a split second before the bell sounded to end the round.
Sooners, Spartans Might Not, Though
NEW YORK (AP)—Coach Lou Little of winless Columbia was being questioned Monday at the weekly meeting of the New York Football Writers.
"Tell me, Lou," asked one of the writers, "What if your quarterback, Claude Benham, had a line in front of him like Michigan State or Oklahoma?"
Little paused momentarily, stroked his chin and replied solemnly: "Well, son, I think he'd like it."

ERA Titles To Ford, Burdette

By BEN OLAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees, who owns the majors' highest lifetime pitching percentage, has captured the American League earned-run championship for the first time.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press revealed Monday that Ford gave up only 62 earned runs in 226 innings for an ERA of 2.47. He edged Cleveland's Herb Score, another brilliant lefthander, who finished with a 2.57 mark.

Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee

Braves won the National League title in another tight competition. He beat out teammate Warren Spahn, who had the lowest earned-run average in 1947 and 1953.

In 256 frames, Burdette yielded 77 earned tallies for a 2.71 ERA. Spahn, a 20-game winner, gave up 87 untainted runs in 281 innings for 2.79. Burdette wound up with a 19-10 won-lost mark.

Remarkable Record
Ford has put together a truly remarkable record in five big league seasons. The 27-year-old native of New York City, who divided two decisions in the recent World Series against Brooklyn, shows a lifetime mark of 80 victories against 28 defeats for a .741 percentage in 1956, winning 19 games and losing only 6 for .760. He is only the seventh pitcher in his circuit to win the earned-run leader with 263, permitted 71 earned runs in 249 innings while winning 20 games and dropping 9.

Behind Score came two other Cleveland mainstays, Early Wynn and Bob Lemon. Wynn finished with a 2.69 ERA on 83 earned runs in 278 innings while Lemon had 86 in 255 frames for a 3.04 mark. Both Wynn and Lemon also were 20-game winners.

Lary Was Fifth
Frank Lary of Detroit, outstanding in his sophomore year, was fifth in the earned run race with 3.06. He won his last eight starts, boosting his record to 21-13.

Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants, the 1954 National League earned-run leader, finished a close third this year. The durable southpaw, who posted a 20-13 record, had an ERA of 2.36.

Sal Maglie of Brooklyn, one of the leading candidates for comeback - of - the - year honors, was fourth with 2.87. He was followed by Don Newcombe of the Dodgers, the majors' top winner with 27. Newk had an ERA of 3.09.

Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox, the American League pace-setter in 1955, finished eighth the past season with 3.33. Bob Friend, Pittsburgh ace, was 12th with a 3.50 mark after heading the National League in '55.

Big Ten Heads Say Aid To Athletes Is Nearing 'Staggering Proportions'

CHICAGO (AP)—A critical self-appraisal of Western Conference athletics, charging that the work-aid program for athletes is "an invitation to hypocrisy and deceit" was released Monday by the Big Ten in the form of a 24-page report.

It also found financial help to athletes has reached "staggering proportions."

The strongly worded analysis of the trends of recruiting and financial aid was drafted by a conference committee set up on Dec. 9, 1955, "to study the over-all problems and position on the conference in the conduct of intercollegiate athletics."

Secret Until Now
The report, secret until now, was sent to Big Ten presidents, athletic directors and faculty representatives.

It was mapped by Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. Wilson; Assistant Commissioner Bill Reed; H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, Michigan athletic director; Leslie W. Scott, Michigan State faculty representative; Verne C. Freeman, Purdue faculty representative, and Ivy Williamson, Wisconsin athletic director.

The report criticized the "offer system." It said "there is an underlying dilemma in the administration of financial assistance to athletes in the Big Ten."

"Each conference school," the report stated, "is on a definite 'offer' basis, meaning that the recruitment activity... is accompanied by the offer of financial assistance (promised work and/or scholarships)."

Staggering Increase
"The scope of financial subsidies to conference athletes, earned and unearned (scholarships), has increased in staggering proportions in the past decade."

"The literal requirements of the work-aid rule that pay be for work performed, are being bent if not tortured, to accommodate a basis for offers of aid in fixed amounts..."

The report also set forth: "The work-aid program has developed purposefully as a subsidization device under the 'offer system' and limitations upon unearned aid... as such it is an invitation to hypocrisy and deceit unless there is complete insistence upon full work for compensation received, and there is not."

Gloomy Picture Projected
If the present trends of recruiting and payment continue, the special committee projected a gloomy picture of Big Ten athletics 10 or 15 years from now.

Among other things, the report predicted the conference may well "form a functional arrangement in the nature of a farm system with professional sports"; that the distinction between intercollegiate and professional sports will disappear with public support shifting to the pros; that students will be "vigorously" recruited; that actual aid to the athlete will far exceed that which is necessary educational expense, and that:

"The formality of requiring that the athlete be a bona fide student will be met by special devices of admission, tutoring and curriculum counsel, all undermining the academic integrity of the conference members."

Terry To Keep Sally Loop Post

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Bill Terry, former New York Giants first baseman and Hall of Fame member, agreed Monday to continue as president of the Class A South Atlantic Baseball League for another year.

Earlier, Terry said he was submitting his resignation. He changed his mind at the request of the league's directors.

The Columbia Gems, a doubtful entry for next season, also is expected to operate.

President Julius Love of the Columbia club was elected vice president of the league to succeed Sam Wolfson, owner and president of the Jacksonville Braves.

Terry said following a 3-hour closed-door meeting of the directors that the league finished the 1956 season well, both from a financial and an attendance standpoint.

He said the league's assets as of Oct. 1 were $17,301—compared to $2,300 for last year. There were no assets two years ago.

Attendance also increased with a total of 650,627 reported paid in 1956 compared with 616,640 paying customers in 1955.

Giants Chortle After Swiping Browns' Radio Signals To Quarterback Ratterman

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK (AP)—Electronic football, the new gimmick of wiring the quarterback for sound, backfired on the pro champion Cleveland Browns—the New York Giants swiped their signals. The Giants chortled Monday in telling how they tuned in on the Browns' radio wave length, intercepted instructions from the bench and came off with an upset 21-9 victory.

"We were able to get the Browns' signals better than they could," Ray Walsh, general manager of the Giants, told the weekly meeting of New York Football Writers. "Finally, after three unsuccessful series of plays, they gave it up."

Paul Brown Cleveland coach, this year instituted the device whereby his offensive and defensive quarterbacks were equipped with small radio receiving sets in their helmets to get orders from the bench.

Bronko Jr. Doesn't Plan To Join Dad On Farm

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (INS)—Bronko Nagurski Jr., may be a chip off the old block—but he does not intend to remain stacked at his father's farm in International Falls, Minn.

The 18-year-old giant son of a gigantic football dad is studying commerce at Notre Dame University when he is not busy battling for the tight tackle post on the Irish squad.

Bronko (from the Slavic name "Branko") says:

"I think I'll be content with the exercise I get out of football and will try something else besides farming when I am graduated at Notre Dame."

Bronko Jr., is one of a bevy of eager sophomores who are trying to make the grade on a Notre Dame squad bedeviled with the usual killing Irish schedule.

He is a big boy for his age—218 pounds and well over six feet tall—and still growing.

This is well below the 230 to 240 pounds Bronko Sr., carried when he was smashing up all opposition as an All-American tackle and fullback at Minnesota 30 years ago—and with the Chicago Bears later.

But time and the experience it brings with it may yet put the son on a par with his father:

Notre Dame Coach Terry Brennan, whose young charges have lost two games and won only one so far this season, does not single Bronko Jr. out for special attention. Brennan says:

"He's trying hard and he's im-

No Law In Book

There's no law in the rule book of the National Football League to prevent it.

But the Giants concocted their own measures, as described gleefully by Walsh.

"First of all, we were seriously warned by Brown before the game that it's a $10,000 fine to anyone found jamming the wave lengths," Walsh said. "You see, Cleveland has its own licensed radio station to carry out the experiment. Other clubs, like the Chicago Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Steelers, have a special wire strung around the field."

"We had Bob Topp on the sidelines. He is an end on whom we have asked waivers. And next to him we had Gene Filipski. They had a big receiving set on the bench tuned to the Browns' wave length."

Instructions Overheard
"Hopp could hear Brown's instructions to his quarterback, George Ratterman, very clearly while Ratterman, with only a little gadget in his helmet, seemed to be having trouble hearing over the roar of the crowd."

"Hopp heard Brown give instructions for a pitchout to the left. Hopp told Filipski, Filipski yelled to a defensive man on the field and the word was passed all along the line. There was a pitchout to the left—and the play lost two yards. The Browns tried three sequences and finally gave up in disgust."

Walsh, representing NFL Commissioner Bert Bell at the meeting, said Bell expected some action on the electronic devices at the next meeting of the league, indicating rules may be made to outlaw them. The colleges already have the situation covered in the rules which forbid coaching from the sidelines.

"If this trend continues," said Walsh, "the No. 1 draft choice of the Giants next year will be the valedictorian of MIT."

RICHARDS

Richards Gets 2-Year Contract, Keeps Both Jobs

BALTIMORE (AP)—Paul Richards Monday got a 2-year extension of his contract through 1959, a full vote of confidence, and a promise of administrative help with no interference, from the Baltimore Orioles.

The acts sought to still rumors that the Orioles brass hadn't been happy with Richards serving for the last two years with titles of both manager on the field and in the office, an unusual set-up in major league baseball.

The extension of Richards' contract, originally set to expire next year, "reaffirms the board's unanimous confidence in Mr. Richards and expresses our full satisfaction in the demonstrated growth of the Orioles under his direction," said a statement issued by the directors.

Jim Keelty, president, insisted afterward the announcement at this time was made to show "utmost confidence in Richards." He said the directors knew the job of elevating the Orioles couldn't be accomplished in three years and so gave him a 5-year plan.

Richards was hired two years ago after the Orioles assumed the St. Louis Browns' franchise in 1954 and finished last under Manager Jimmy Dykes. Richards got them to seventh in 1955 and sixth this year.

Richards said, "with a little luck, we will have a contending ball club at the end of five years."

YOU BE THE QUARTERBACK ANSWER

1. Pitchout. Worst call. The new halfback fumbles on occasion and he's very likely to do it on his first play. This would be a poor play, needing only a half yard, for an experienced back.
2. Dive. Too much fake and delay. The defense will be concentrated.
3. Punt. Never a bad call on your own 27 on fourth down.
4. Off tackle slant. Best call. Your hard-hitting right half should get 1½ feet. Try it. In modern football, ball control means so much.

Sinclair Power-X with New X-Chemical Does What No Other Gasoline Ever Did Before—Increases Power, Cuts Operating Costs As You Drive

X-CHEMICAL ELIMINATES POWER-ROBBING ENGINE DEPOSITS

OUTSTANDING JOURNALISTS of leading publications recently witnessed proof, previously certified by American Automobile Association tests, that Sinclair's new power discovery, new Power-X Gasoline with X-Chemical, does what no other gasoline ever did before.

- It eliminates power-robbing engine deposits.
- It increases power, cuts operating costs as you drive.
- X-Chemical is 90% more effective than any other gasoline additive in preventing spark plug fouling.

- It's 70% more effective in preventing power loss from pre-ignition.

Other gasoline additives, intended to combat spark plug fouling and pre-ignition, actually build up harmful deposits of their own.

But Sinclair's new X-Chemical has none of these damaging after-effects. Instead, it changes hard, crusty deposits into harmless, powdery material, thereby increasing power in older cars—retaining peak power in new cars.

After just three tankfuls of new Super-Premium Sinclair Power-X, you can feel the improvement in performance—provided you do not mix it with other gasoline. See your Sinclair Dealer and power up with new Power-X. All cars need it—only Sinclair has it!

POSTCARD

Over the week end, I read all 697 pages of an etiquette book. And can now report that I am a very knowledgeable cat on the politeness dodge.

It is amazing all the things that can use etiquette polish.

A man touches his hat but does not look more than briefly at a woman to whom he gives up his seat. He then stands as far away from her as possible and does not look in her direction.

This is so much trouble that I have quit giving my seat to ladies on buses. I just pretend I am reading the paper and do not see them.

Well, that is not what I started out to say. What I was reading particularly was about "Your Public Life." This is the chapter on how to handle the press. And having been handled as a press representative by various people, I was interested.

For instance, the book says if you are giving Emmett the old heave-ho, you should hand a type-written statement to the reporters. "Mrs. Emmett Coles Freylinghausen regrets to announce that she is leaving on Thursday for her home in Palm Beach to institute divorce proceedings against Mr. Freylinghausen. A separation agreement has been reached." This is an interesting tactic. It has never happened to me. Though once a lady I questioned on such a matter, hauled off and hit me with a mesh handbag full of keys and compacts.

What I would like to point out to the etiquette lady is this does not solve the problem.

If there are any reporters around to take this social blockbuster, they are not hiking home with such meager information. We are a nosy bunch and would probably ask things like:

"Did he beat you like a gong, lady?"

The social etiquette book gives answers for this. The book says: "The principals need not see the press themselves but should refer to the statement as embodying all they can say at the moment."

Before everybody gets off on the wrong etiquette, I would state that this is so much wishful thinking. "Embodying all they can say at the moment"—my aching back.

What kind of separation agreement? Is there another doll involved? Who was that lady I seen you with last night? There is a great deal to be said.

When somebody with a square name like "Freylinghausen" and a home in Palm Beach splits the electric blanket, there are all kinds of things we want to know.

While we are at this etiquette business, we might as well get it right. Shorten it up.

Once I wrote a story saying Mrs. Freylinghausen or whoever was going "to institute divorce proceedings against Mr. Freylinghausen." The city editor drew a line through "against Mr. Freylinghausen."

"She isn't going to divorce President Coolidge, is she?" he said snappily.

That gives you an idea of the journalism I grew up in! Copy read that stuff, cats. Otherwise, it won't get in the paper.

Anyway, I simply wished to point out that a lot of etiquette is around us these days. Not just knowing how to cut a slab of butter with a fish knife. One reading is not enough and I intend to refer to these things as I go along.

It is an interesting business. Like giving up your seat on a bus. You should touch your hat, it says. Now, obviously, if you are all worn out and don't care to give up your seat, just don't wear a hat.

I wish all my problems were that simple.

$750,000 Personal Injury Suit Is Filed By Lincolnite

A $750,000 personal injury suit has been filed in Lancaster District Court as the result of a car-train crash last Dec. 14 on No. 27th Street.

The suit was brought by Nettie Carter of 440 So. 44th, guardian for Troy Carter, 40, who was allegedly rendered incompetent by the accident.

Named as defendants were Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, Roy and Earl Vermaas, Vermaas Service Station Inc., and United States Rubber Co.

Blind, Disabled

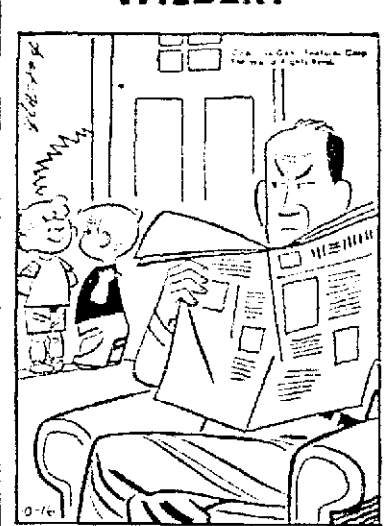

The petition alleges that Troy Carter has been rendered blind and totally disabled by the mishap resulted from the negligence of Roy Vermaas, driver of the car in which Carter was riding, and the Burlington Railroad.

The U.S. Rubber Co. is joined in the suit on the allegation that Carter was doing work for the corporation at the time of the mishap and was employed by the defendant.

The petition alleges as a basis for damages: hospital and medical bills past and future, $51,937.30; nursing home care for life expectancy, $101,720 and loss of earning power, $380,000.

What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

It all started with the new "Inner Ford." When Ford engineers planned this baby, they didn't just think in terms of new springs, new brakes, new axles. They thought in terms of a car through-and-through new.

The wheels got smaller. Yes, this new Ford is so new in every detail that even the wheels have changed. Now smaller and broader for a better grip on the road, they help you take off quickly . . . give you a better ride.

The wheelbase got longer . . . in fact Ford offers two wheelbases, both longer than any in its field. So now you can choose between a Ford that's over 16 ft. long—or one that's over 17 ft. long!

The frame got wider. Side rails bow out and dip down between front and rear wheels to give a more stable, safer riding platform . . . a lower, sleeker silhouette.

The ride got smoother. With new suspension, new springing front and rear, the ride this new Ford gives you is the closest you'll ever come to coasting on velvet-covered clouds. And that holds true on back roads, too!

The handling got easier . . . and no wonder! This new, lower Ford with stiffer frame is poised and balanced like a panther. And the new swept-back front suspension works its magic when you need it most.

The power got hotter. This new kind of Ford is packed with Thunderbird GO! It offers a wide range of Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need* . . . plus a new version of the famous Mileage Maker Six.

The roof got lower. You can shake hands with admiring friends over the roof of this low, low Ford. No wonder it clings to the road like a coat of paint. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. As a matter of fact, it's the strongest body ever built for a low-priced car. It's built to keep its new-car "tightness" longer. And no car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too, even for six-footers. And there's shoulder space for six big passengers.

The lines got sweeter. They have the Touch of Tomorrow. Ford gives you the longest, lowest, low-priced car ever. Each graceful contour, every long, low, lance-like line of its sculptured-in-steel body says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look new Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! For example: all Fairlane models, including the sedans have the look of a hardtop.

The value got greater . . . and the price is still Ford-low. The result—even more promise of buying a car that will keep its value high . . . a car that will stay worth more.

The lines got sweeter. They have the Touch of Tomorrow. Ford gives you the longest, lowest, low-priced car ever. Each graceful contour, every long, low, lance-like line of its sculptured-in-steel body says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look new Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! For example: all Fairlane models, including the sedans have the look of a hardtop.

The value got greater . . . and the price is still Ford-low. The result—even more promise of buying a car that will keep its value high . . . a car that will stay worth more.

'Adlai Like Truman'—Nixon

V.P. Says Labor Vote For GOP Will Increase

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Vice President Nixon, plane-hopping industrial Ohio Monday, said Adlai Stevenson sounds "more and more like Harry Truman" and that the labor vote for Republicans will increase.

Nixon said in a talk prepared for delivery in this steel center, where many residents are labor union members, he is out to nail "outright misstatements of fact," he said Stevenson had made on economic issues.

Nixon said in Toledo earlier that if anyone questioned President Eisenhower's integrity and desire to improve the condition of the American people, "he is engaging in low road campaigning in the worst Harry Truman tradition." He said here that if former President Truman was willing to accept as a basic issue in the presidential campaign a comparison between his administration and that of President Eisenhower, then Democratic presidential nominee Stevenson is "stuck with" the issue.

'Best Times'

Both here and in Toledo Nixon said that the best times in the memory of most Americans came under the present administration.

He said in Toledo the Republican party will get a bigger proportion of the wage earners' vote than in 1952 because workers "are not going to risk their jobs, their high wages, their security and their peace by changing from the Eisenhower leadership to a Stevenson administration which offers only a return to the Truman policies."

N.Y. Times Backs Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times Monday night announced its support of President Eisenhower for re-election. It had supported him originally in 1952. The Times lists itself politically as independent.

In a three-column editorial in its Tuesday morning edition, "the Times found much in common between Eisenhower and Democratic candidate Adlai E. Stevenson. . . . in the area of many fundamental matters . . . the approach of both these men is to conciliate rather than coerce, to clarify rather than confuse, to unify rather than disrupt."

'Disagree'

Turning first to Stevenson, the editorial said:

"We . . . disagree sharply with Mr. Stevenson's position on the Selective Service Act and we regret his willingness to encourage American parents and their sons to believe that 'in the not far distant future' we can dispense with this 'presumably unpopular but nevertheless indispensable instrument of American defense.'"

The Times also expressed disappointment with some of Eisenhower's views and actions, but added that "despite disappointments, there is much in the record of the Eisenhower administration that is of real and lasting value to the country."

Misegadis Petition Accepted; To Run For Congressman

There will be three candidates listed officially in the race for congressman from the Second Nebraska District.

This resulted Monday from the completion of filing and acceptance of nomination by Al Misegadis of Talmage, a petition candidate.

One request listed by Misegadis was that his listing on the ballot include the name "conservative." Roland Luedtke, deputy secretary of state, said the listing cannot be included. The only other printing on the ballot by Misegadis' name will be "petition candidate."

The other two candidates are Joseph V. Benesch, Democratic, and Glenn Cunningham, former Omaha mayor, Republican.

...and Dexol brightens and bleaches them all!

A NEW SAFETY BLEACH

Just see the variety of fabrics and colors assembled in our children's wear. The common denominator in each case: they're all washable. Now, thanks to this remarkable product, they can be bleached and brightened, too. Not only cottons, but nylon, rayon, orlon and other "miracle fibers." (The ones that usually require "special" treatment).

NO HARMFUL INGREDIENTS

Why? Because Dexol Ultra-Brite Powder Bleach contains no chlorine. Nothing that can harm fabrics ... not even those treated to resist wrinkles; nor embossed or coated types. What's more, Dexol is harmless to the skin ... won't dry or irritate, regardless of how many times you use it.

A NEW, EASY METHOD

You don't have to separate your wash to bleach with Dexol. Just add a small amount to the suds in your automatic or wringer-type washer; and that's all you do. Dexol bleaches, brightens and helps remove ordinary stains while you wash. No special operation is required ... and the wash comes out smelling sweet and clean. White things look much whiter. Colored things look spanking new!

RÉCOMMENDED FOR ALL FABRICS

Dexol has been thoroughly tested by leading textile mills and dress manufacturers. It's the only bleach of its kind recommended and approved for use on all types of washable fabrics ... even the sheerest or most delicate types.

FREE ONE WEEK DEXOL SPECIAL FREE

To introduce you to this new, easy way of bleaching and brightening your wash: you'll receive, without charge, for one week starting tomorrow, a box of Dexol with every purchase of any of the garments in this advertisement.
